TAFT INVADES "BROWN LAND" STRIKES HARD

Continues His Attack on Colonel Roosevelt.

IS ASSISTED BY LA FOLLETTE

While President Is Talking to Big Crowd In City by the Maumee, Wisconsin Senator Is Urging Progressive Policies In Nearby Town. Charges That Perkins, Gary and Dan Hanna Are Back of Big Fund to Boom Rough Rider.

Toledo, O., May 18.—In a common cause, President Taft and Senator LaFollette invaded this city. While Mr. Taft was pointing out Roosevelt's inconsistencies before a big audience in the auditorium here, Senator LaFollette was flaying the colonel before another big crowd a few miles out of the city. Senator LaFollette promises to go after Roosevelt's scalp hard. He will, it is declared charge in his speech here tonight that three men closely identified with Wall street interests—George W. Perkins, Judge E. H. Gary of the steel trust and Dan R. Hanna of Cleveland—have raised $1,000 000 for the Roosevelt campaign fund and are now spending it freely in an effort to corral delegates for the national convention.

Senator LaFollette has delegates running in only four districts. The indications now are that LaFollette will poll a very light vote. Toledo was the scene of activity by both Taft and LaFollette. It is the home of State Chairman Brown, who is running the Roosevelt fight in Ohio.

The battlecry that is being raised in Toledo is, "Down with Boss Brown." Brown has had control of the Republican organization of Toledo for a good many years.

Say Brown Is Beaten.

The Taft people contended that they have Boss Brown beaten in Lucas county, which is in reality the city of Toledo. They say they will have a majority of 2,500 for Taft delegates in this county.

The president's trip took him from Cleveland through the lake shore counties in the northwestern part of the state. He delivered a dozen speeches and at all of his stops was greeted by encouraging crowds.

His stops included Lorain, Bellevue, Fremont, Fostoria, Tiffin, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Kenton, Bowling Green and Toledo.

The president devoted his attention chiefly to explaining his stand on the reciprocity issue and to making it clear that Roosevelt himself had indorsed the reciprocity agreement.

LaFollette In Columbus.

Columbus, O., May 18. — Senator LaFollette arrived here this morning and spent several hours in conference with his political managers. This afternoon he is delivering a speech at Olentangy park.

Quarrel Results Fatally.

Columbus, O., May 18.—In a quarrel in a barn of the George I. Mackey Transfer company, Charles E. Dill, a colored driver, shot and killed Henry Williams, a negro, with whom he quarreled over a box of feed.

Zanesville, O., May 18.—Bloodhounds were used without success in attempting to run down firebugs who set fire to the power plant of the Saltillo Coal company, entailing a loss of $15.000.

New York's Great Annual Parade of the Suffragists

Photos copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

MORE than 8,000 women suffragists and about 800 male sympathizers marched up Fifth avenue in the annual "votes for women" parade. Many features combined to make the demonstration an impressive one, among them the bright spring weather, the brilliant yellow banners and the well kept lines of the paraders. The procession was headed by Mrs. Charles T. Knoblauch, wife of a former rough rider, and her detachment of women on horseback, among whom was Miss Inez Milholland, who became well known as a Socialist speaker before she left college. Another striking figure was that of Miss Nellie van Slingerland of Albany, incased in gleaming armor and impersonating Joan of Arc. The women, for the most part, marched under the banners of their district organizations, but there were many groups which carried the insignia of their callings, like the "writers." Probably the most fervent applause of the day went to the members of the Men's league as they passed the ranks of the women marchers, but the Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, eighty-seven years old and a suffragist since 1848, received the heartiest cheers from those who recognized her. The first of the two photographs is of the head of the division of women writers, the second of a part of the cavalry vanguard.

HE BELIEVES IN COMPETITION

Should Be of Mild Sort, However, and Not of Kind That Seeks Destruction of the Weak So That Strong May Survive — Expresses Opinion That Spirit of Unrest Throughout Country Has Been Greatly Exaggerated—Says He Is Progressive.

New York, May 18.—Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, took occasion to make some significant remarks at the second annual meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute, held at the Waldorf-Astoria. Judge Gary told the steel men to stand by their guns and co-operate in conforming to the government's policy.

"I think," he proceeded, "we are in a period of great transition. We are passing through an age of peculiar conditions. Although there is a spirit of unrest throughout the country, I think it is exaggerated. The people of the world are moving and this means progress. In other words, we are progressive. Now I am not going to talk politics, but the name progressive is not dangerous. Simply because a man is called a progressive does not indicate that he is a demagogue or a Socialist or an anarchist. I am in favor of progress, but I want it to be conservative progress."

The old methods of competition Judge Gary described as ruthless. They meant simply a survival of the fittest.

Don't Give Up Ship.

"I hope," he continued, "that no one engaged in our industry will lose heart. I hope you will stand by your guns. Don't give up the ship. You are going to be prosperous in the future as you have in the past. Don't believe that competition is harmful, if a competitor is your enemy.

"Competition is necessary. I believe in competition thoroughly. The race should be won by the swift, but I do not believe in that relentless, destructive competition which is calculated to drive out the weak so that only the strong may survive."

White Confident

Says Anthracite Settlement Will Be Reached Today.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 18.—Peace is assured in the anthracite field for a period of four years. Miners in convention here will adopt the tentative agreement offered them by the operators, so the leaders declare, and be ordred back to work the early part of next week. President White's address, in which he laid bare the numerical and financial strength of the union, started to turn the tide.

A vote will be taken on the agreement today, and the officials are positive there will be a big majority for adoption and that peace will come for a term of four years.

State's Star Witness In Trial of Senator Huffman.

Cleveland Senator Gives Testimony Against Huffman's Alibi.

Columbus, O., May 18.—Senator James A. Reynolds of Cuyahoga county, put on in rebuttal by the state in the Huffman bribery trial, offered the first direct testimony in contradiction to the alibi.

Reynolds testified that he was watching the meeting of the taxation committee on the afternoon of April 27, 1911, at the request of Senator Stockwell, who asked him to keep track of those attending the meeting of the committee to let him (Stockwell) know when they got a quorum.

Senator Reynolds swore that the taxation committee adjourned about 5 o'clock. "After the meeting adjourned I went to the Neil House," he said, "then I went to the Hartman hotel. When I got to the Hartman it was a quarter of six."

"About 15 minutes before the committee adjourned Senator Cetone left the smoker where the meeting was being held. A little later I saw Huffman leave the smoker," testified Reynolds. He saw neither come back.

Senator Huffman's alibi is based on his being at a meeting of the taxation committee between 5 and 6 o'clock on the afternoon of April 27, 1911, in which time Detective Smiley says Cetone and Huffman were at the Chittenden and accepted bribes.

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—The Presbyterian church in the United States of America was pledged by its general assembly to a campaign of increased evangelistic effort throughout the coming year. RUIN IF TAFT WINS SAYS T. R.

CONFIDENT OF OWN VICTORY

Former President Makes Two Addresses at Columbus In Which He Assails President's Political Methods and Selection of Political Bedfellows — Declares Republicans of Ohio Must Vote For Roosevelt If They Desire Progressive Policies.

Columbus, O., May 18.—In his speech here Colonel Roosevelt, commenting on Taft's fight for the nomination, said should he continue in the convention, seeking control by force and fraud, the attempt so to control it will be unsuccessful. If successful, it would merely mean the ruin of the Republican party.

The colonel is more confident than ever that he will be nominated. The colonel's text was the president's statement, "the Chicago convention will be organized by the friends of constitutional government and therefore he (President Taft) would be nominated." Colonel Roosevelt here named a number of bosses as the president's "friends of constitutional government," and said they are bent solely on the one purpose of defeating him in convention and out of convention by hook or crook.

Fears the People.

He fears the people and sustains these men against the people and seeks to profit by their defrauding the will of the people in his interest. He declared that Mr. Taft's campaign has not, from the beginning, had the slightest chance of success save by perverting true intent of the constitution through the malign influence of the men of this kind. He exampled the steal he charged to the Taft forces in Washington, and said: "Every Republican in Ohio who votes for any man except myself is strengthening the reactionary cause."

Crowds followed the colonel in the streets, packed around the stand outdoors in Olentangy park, where he addressed his first meeting, and jammed Memorial hall, where he made his first set speech. There were hundreds of people packed in the streets outside.

The colonel began his speechmaking at Ironton and made a dozen speeches, principally at Portsmouth, Chillicothe, Jackson, Nelsonville, Logan and Lancaster, and finished up in Columbus.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE LEAGUE NEXT WEEK

Second Meeting to Organize Law and Order League Ends With New Members Being Added to Committee.

PLANS DISCUSSED AT LENGTH

Committee Recommends That Power Be Vested in Committee of Five, But Majority Favor Full and Complete Organization.

The second meeting of those interested in organizing a Law and Order League, was held in the lecture room of Grace church Friday night, with Rev. Locke presiding. Qute a number of new faces were among those present who attended the first meeting.

The committee to formulate plans, Henry Brownell, J. T. Tuttle, James Minshall and Harry Townsley, had their report ready, but before it was taken up a report from the committee appointed to see Mayor Smith and give him a report of the proceedings of the last meeting in order that he might know just what had been done, was heard, Rev. Locke stating that he had called upon Mayor Smith as requested, and that among other things the mayor had informed him that the matter of slot machines had been taken care of the previous evening, and that he had ordered the slot machines faced to the wall, and that they would all be collected and disposed of, as he had not thoroughly understood the law relating to them until the day previous.

The committee on plans then reported, suggesting that the League consist of all members who wished to join, and a Safety Committee of five men to be appointed, who in turn should appoint a committee of three whose identity should not be disclosed, and whose duty it would be to carry on as much of the active work as possible, reporting to the committee of five. No president, secretary or treasurer was recommended, and this caused a hitch in proceedings throughout the session, and eventually ended in the same committee being retained and four additional members added—Rev. Campbell, M. E. Hitchcock, C. E. Lloyd and Rev. Hostetler, who are to draw up by-laws and a constitution for a fully organized league, to have a president, secretary and treasurer, and also the other committees as suggested in the report.

During the two and one-half hours the body was in session both plans were discussed fully and freely, Henry Brownell being the leading advocate of the kind of organization recommended by the committee, and most of the others favoring a complete organization. Mr. Brownell based his idea on the methods employed by the Law & Order League, so that when quick action was necessary it would be accomplished immediately. Rev. Campbell warmly championed the side favoring a complete organization, and was assisted by a number of others.

During the session it was reported that some of the slot machines objected to were still running, and other unlawful proceedings were mentioned.

Many plans and methods of procedure were discussed at length, and each step taken slowly and carefully, and the final action of appointing the committee was apparently satisfactory to all present. The committee is to meet tonight and if possible a meeting will be held Monday night when the organization is to be completed and launched. If the committee cannot finish its work in time, then the next meeting is to be announced in the various churches Sunday.

Burglars Make Haul At Hooker's Poolroom

Some time during the after part of Friday night burglars broke into the Wm. Hooker pool room and restaurant on Court street, and succeeded in making their escape with something like $13 in change which was removed from the cash register.

The burglars gained entrance by means of the rear door, which was double bolted. A hole was cut through the door near the bottom and another near the top, and large enough to permit the bolts being reached and drawn, allowing the door to swing open. The holes were cut with a jack knife.

Besides relieving the cash register of the $13 in change, the thieves worked the combination on a small steel safe and nearly succeeded in securing some $200 which was kept in the cash drawer in the safe.

An attempt had been made to cut through the wooden face of the cash drawer, but whether the job was too difficult or whether the burglars were frightened away, is not known. However a little effort would have forced the cash drawer.

The police got busy as soon as they were notified, and made two arrests on suspicion, the two young men being thrown in jail to await investigation. Everything indicated that some one who was very familiar with the interior of the place, and the habits of those in charge, had turned the trick.

Large Class Of Boxwellers

A class of 64 students gathered in this city Saturday to take the second Boxwell-Patterson examination held here.

When the first class took the examination there were 125 present, and 60 of these passed. Most of those who took the examination Saturday are those who failed in the first attempt, and have been making every effort to be ready for and pass the second examination.

A. J. Kearney Statement of Fact

I am a candidate in the primaries to be held next Tuesday for the Democratic nomination for Probate Judge. I ask the party voters to come to the polls and vote their preference for the nomination for Probate Judge as well as on other questions of vital importance.

I ask for your support in the election because having studied law and been admitted to the practice and having been engaged in the active practice of my profession, I am confident that in that respect my qualifications are ample to discharge the duties of the office and having taught school in the county I feel that my experience in that line has qualified me in that particular line of work, so that I may be able to look after the important school work which is a part of the jurisdiction of the Probate court.

My experience as an agriculturist has kept me in close touch with the farming community, so that the requirements of the office in regard to the settlement of estates, the majority of which are landed estates, may be discharged by me to the satisfaction of those upon whom the burden of head of the family has fallen by reason of death.

For the two reasons, my experience in the practice of the law and my intimate and actual knowledge of conditions of this farming community. I feel that I will be able to conserve the interests and property of those who furnish the bulk of work to the Probate court.

I ask your support.

Less Slate Sold And Reason Why

There was a falling off in the production of slate in the United States in 1911. The value of the output last year was $5,728,019, a decrease of $508,740 compared with 1910, when the value was $6,236,759.

Pennsylvania took the lead in output with 59.9 per cent; Vermont was next, with 28.37 per cent; and Maine Virginia, New York, Maryland, New Jersey, Georgia and Arkansas followed in order of rank. California and Tennessee, which reported a production in 1910, droped out in 1911.

The decrease in production was noticeable in roofing slate, 1,124,677 squares being the output in 1911, a decrease of 135,944 squares from the production of 1910. The value of the output for 1911 was $4,348,571, while that for 1910 was $4,844,664, although a square of slate cost 3 cents more in 1911 than in 1910. A square consists of a sufficient number of pieces of slate to cover 100 square feet of roof, with allowance generally for a 3-inch lap. The production in 1911 therefore represented over 120,000,000 square feet of roofing.

An increase of mill stock—exclusive of blackboard and school slate material—is noted in 1911, both in quantity and value, the production being 5,744,605 square feet, valued at $1,027,605, an average price of 18 cents a square foot. In the previous year the amount produced was 5,181,498 square feet, valued at $999,098, or 19 cents a square foot. Blackboards and school slate are made only from the Pennsylvania slate and there was not so much marketed in 1911 as in 1910 Mill stock also includes flooring, wainscoting, vats, tiles, sinks, laundry tubs, grave vaults, sanitary ware, refrigerator shelves, flour bins, dough troughs, electric switchboards mantles, hearths, well caps, and billiard, laboratory, kitchen, and other table tops. This material is made in the form of slabs from 1 inch to 3 inches or more thick.

While there was a fair demand for slate, according to reports received from the operators, trade conditions were unsettled and prices were somewhat lower than those in 1910.

Indian Ceremony At Pool of Siva

A remarkable Indian ceremony is the Kumbakonam Mahamakam festival. This feast takes place once a year, but the Hindu gods are supposed to visit the sacred tank on each twelfth anniversary. It is said that the god Brahma once requested Siva to collect the essence of all the waters in the world. It is understood that Siva succeeded in doing this, placing the fluid in a pot, which he hid away on the top of a mountain. During the Flood this pot floated away from its position, and when the waters subsided it rested at a spot some distance away, now known as Kumbakonam. Siva, who happened to be hunting in the vicinity, saw the pot, and, drawing his bow and arrow, shot at it, with disastrous results. The water, rushing out, filled a hollow, and this at the present time is the renowned tank. PLAN TO ORGANIZE LEAGUE NEXT WEEK

Second Meeting to Organize Law and Order League Ends With New Members Being Added to Committee.

PLANS DISCUSSED AT LENGTH

Committee Recommends That Power Be Vested in Committee of Five, But Majority Favor Full and Complete Organization.

The second meeting of those interested in organizing a Law and Order League, was held in the lecture room of Grace church Friday night, with Rev. Locke presiding. Qute a number of new faces were among those present who attended the first meeting.

The committee to formulate plans, Henry Brownell, J. T. Tuttle, James Minshall and Harry Townsley, had their report ready, but before it was taken up a report from the committee appointed to see Mayor Smith and give him a report of the proceedings of the last meeting in order that he might know just what had been done, was heard, Rev. Locke stating that he had called upon Mayor Smith as requested, and that among other things the mayor had informed him that the matter of slot machines had been taken care of the previous evening, and that he had ordered the slot machines faced to the wall, and that they would all be collected and disposed of, as he had not thoroughly understood the law relating to them until the day previous.

The committee on plans then reported, suggesting that the League consist of all members who wished to join, and a Safety Committee of five men to be appointed, who in turn should appoint a committee of three whose identity should not be disclosed, and whose duty it would be to carry on as much of the active work as possible, reporting to the committee of five. No president, secretary or treasurer was recommended, and this caused a hitch in proceedings throughout the session, and eventually ended in the same committee being retained and four additional members added—Rev. Campbell, M. E. Hitchcock, C. E. Lloyd and Rev. Hostetler, who are to draw up by-laws and a constitution for a fully organized league, to have a president, secretary and treasurer, and also the other committees as suggested in the report.

During the two and one-half hours the body was in session both plans were discussed fully and freely, Henry Brownell being the leading advocate of the kind of organization recommended by the committee, and most of the others favoring a complete organization. Mr. Brownell based his idea on the methods employed by the Law & Order League, so that when quick action was necessary it would be accomplished immediately. Rev. Campbell warmly championed the side favoring a complete organization, and was assisted by a number of others.

During the session it was reported that some of the slot machines objected to were still running, and other unlawful proceedings were mentioned.

Many plans and methods of procedure were discussed at length, and each step taken slowly and carefully, and the final action of appointing the committee was apparently satisfactory to all present. The committee is to meet tonight and if possible a meeting will be held Monday night when the organization is to be completed and launched. If the committee cannot finish its work in time, then the next meeting is to be announced in the various churches Sunday.

Burglars Make Haul At Hooker's Poolroom

Some time during the after part of Friday night burglars broke into the Wm. Hooker pool room and restaurant on Court street, and succeeded in making their escape with something like $13 in change which was removed from the cash register.

The burglars gained entrance by means of the rear door, which was double bolted. A hole was cut through the door near the bottom and another near the top, and large enough to permit the bolts being reached and drawn, allowing the door to swing open. The holes were cut with a jack knife.

Besides relieving the cash register of the $13 in change, the thieves worked the combination on a small steel safe and nearly succeeded in securing some $200 which was kept in the cash drawer in the safe.

An attempt had been made to cut through the wooden face of the cash drawer, but whether the job was too difficult or whether the burglars were frightened away, is not known. However a little effort would have forced the cash drawer.

The police got busy as soon as they were notified, and made two arrests on suspicion, the two young men being thrown in jail to await investigation. Everything indicated that some one who was very familiar with the interior of the place, and the habits of those in charge, had turned the trick.

Suit to Collect Small Account

The J. W. Willis Lumber Company has filed a suit in the Common Pleas court in which the Washington Handle Company is made defendant in an action to secure judgment in the sum of $233.64 with interest from February 6th, 1912.

The amount is alleged to be due the plaiutiff for certain lumber and logs furnished the defendant, a statement of which is attached to the petition.

Large Class Of Boxwellers

A class of 64 students gathered in this city Saturday to take the second Boxwell-Patterson examination held here.

When the first class took the examination there were 125 present, and 60 of these passed. Most of those who took the examination Saturday are those who failed in the first attempt, and have been making every effort to be ready for and pass the second examination.

A. J. Kearney Statement of Fact

I am a candidate in the primaries to be held next Tuesday for the Democratic nomination for Probate Judge. I ask the party voters to come to the polls and vote their preference for the nomination for Probate Judge as well as on other questions of vital importance.

I ask for your support in the election because having studied law and been admitted to the practice and having been engaged in the aetive practice of my profession, I am confident that in that respect my qualifications are ample to discharge the duties of the office and having taught school in the county I feel that my experience in that line has qualified me in that particular line of work, so that I may be able to look after the important school work which is a part of the jurisdiction of the Probate court.

My experience as an agriculturist has kept me in close touch with the farming community, so that the requirements of the office in regard to the settlement of estates, the majority of which are landed estates, may be discharged by me to the satisfaction of those upon whom the burden of head of the family has fallen by reason of death.

For the two reasons, my experience in the practice of the law and my intimate and actual knowledge of conditions of this farming community. I feel that I will be able to conserve the interests and property of those who furnish the bulk of work to the Probate court.

I ask your support.

Less Slate Sold And Reason Why

There was a falling off in the production of slate in the United States in 1911. The value of the output last year was $5,728,019, a decrease of $508,740 compared with 1910, when the value was $6,236,759.

Pennsylvania took the lead in output with 59.9 per cent; Vermont was next, with 28.37 per cent; and Maine Virginia, New York, Maryland, New Jersey, Georgia and Arkansas followed in order of rank. California and Tennessee, which reported a production in 1910, droped out in 1911.

The decrease in production was noticeable in roofing slate, 1,124,677 squares being the output in 1911, a decrease of 135,944 squares from the production of 1910. The value of the output for 1911 was $4,348,571, while that for 1910 was $4,844,664, although a square of slate cost 3 cents more in 1911 than in 1910. A square consists of a sufficient number of pieces of slate to cover 100 square feet of roof, with allowance generally for a 3-inch lap. The production in 1911 therefore represented over 120,000,000 square feet of roofing.

An increase of mill stock—exclusive of blackboard and school slate material—is noted in 1911, both in quantity and value, the production being 5,744,605 square feet, valued at $1,027,605, an average price of 18 cents a square foot. In the previous year the amount produced was 5,181,498 square feet, valued at $999,098, or 19 cents a square foot. Blackboards and school slate are made only from the Pennsylvania slate and there was not so much marketed in 1911 as in 1910 Mill stock also includes flooring, wainscoting, vats, tiles, sinks, laundry tubs, grave vaults, sanitary ware, refrigerator shelves, flour bins, dough troughs, electric switchboards mantles, hearths, well caps, and billiard, laboratory, kitchen, and other table tops. This material is made in the form of slabs from 1 inch to 3 inches or more thick.

While there was a fair demand for slate, according to reports received from the operators, trade conditions were unsettled and prices were somewhat lower than those in 1910.

Indian Ceremony At Pool of Siva

A remarkable Indian ceremony is the Kumbakonam Mahamakam festival. This feast takes place once a year, but the Hindu gods are supposed to visit the sacred tank on each twelfth anniversary. It is said that the god Brahma once requested Siva to collect the essence of all the waters in the world. It is understood that Siva succeeded in doing this, placing the fluid in a pot, which he hid away on the top of a mountain. During the Flood this pot floated away from its position, and when the waters subsided it rested at a spot some distance away, now known as Kumbakonam. Siva, who happened to be hunting in the vicinity, saw the pot, and, drawing his bow and arrow, shot at it, with disastrous results. The water, rushing out, filled a hollow, and this at the present time is the renowned tank. This tank is now a place of pilgrimage, where, during the festival, untold thousands of the faithful dip themselves in the wonderful water, which is credited with all sorts of magical attributes.

IN SOCIETY

Miss Light's May recitals in piano closed last night with a brilliant concert program, given at the First Baptist church by the most advanced pupils, assisted by Miss Estella A. Bazore, of Williamsport, soprano, and the Girls' Glee club, Miss Sheen, director.

The program was slightly changed owing to the illness of Miss Jane Saxton, who was to have played in two duets with Miss Mary Weaver, and also a solo.

Misses Kathleen Davis and Dorothy Rogers, two of the younger pupils, substituted pretty duets, and Miss Mabel Kirk, of New Holland, also a younger pupil, who was unable to attend the former recital, played her solo.

The four advanced pupils who gave the piano numbers certainly did beautiful work, contributing to one of the finest concerts Miss Light has ever presented.

Miss Frances Bending and Miss Mary Weaver both showed marked improvement since last year's recital.

Miss Lillian Davis displayed brilliancy and musical interpretation quite out of the ordinary in so young a girl and Miss Constance Ballard in two very difficult and beautiful piano numbers revealed her gift as a highly endowed natural musician. A perfect storm of applause followed Miss Ballard's last number, "Tremolo", Gottschalk, and continued until she responded with an encore.

All of the girls received generous applause.

Miss Bazore, a vocal pupil of Miss Edith Gardner, delighted the audience. Her voice is a clear, high soprano and she handles it beautifully; her enunciation distinct, and voice phrasing good. Each number was a vocal gem.

Miss Constance Ballard played Miss Bazore's accompaniments artistically.

The Girls' Glee club, under Miss Sheen's admirable direction, not only gave the numbers on the program, but generously contributed an additional chorus. The club was in fine form and their numbers splendidly rendered. Miss Gladys Brakefield, the club accompanist, was taken ill just before the concert, and the readiness with which Miss Lillian Davis rose to the occasion, playing the accompaniments beautifully and entirely without preparation, deserves special mention.

There was a very large audience, the boy ushers, Edwards Hopkins, Albert Briggs, Paul Craig, Jack Worrell, Wilbur Adams, all pupils of Miss Light.

An exceedingly pretty party of especial interest in pedagogic circles, was given by Misses Anna Bell and Clara Thurston to announce the engagements of two of their associate teachers in our public schools, Mrs. Martha Brundige, of Xenia, ninth grade teacher, and Miss E. Cree Butler, of Carrolton, Pa., teacher of the business course.

Both teachers will wed this summer. Mrs. Brundige marries Mr. Ernest Bradford, who was at one time chemist with the M. Hamm Co. of this city, and now holds a government position in Panama. The marriage is the sequence to an early romance when Mrs. Brundige and Mr. Bradford were students together at the O. S. U..

Miss Butler's fiance is Mr. Sam Poole, a business man of Carrolton, Pa. The double announcement was received with surprise and pleasure and good wishes showered upon the brides-to-be.

The hostesses had seated Mrs. Brundige and Miss Butler in an alcove festooned with pink and white hearts, where they received the guests who were the teachers of the High school and Central building.

The Bell home, cosy and inviting was made doubly attractive with elaborate decorations of white and pink flowers and garlands of hearts in the same dainty shades, and the rooms were brilliantly lighted through flower shaded bulbs.

Miss Amy Conn, on behalf of the teachers, presented the future brides with boxes of silk hose, artistically gotten up with pink and blue ribbons and sprays of "bridal wreath," and made a happy little speech, voicing congratulations. Each teacher then toasted the honor guests.

The hostesses served an elegant three-course supper, the climax to a most delightful affair.

Thirty High school young people were indebted to Frank Collopy for a delightful party Friday night at the Collopy home, "Cedarhill," on the Circleville pike.

The girls and boys spent a merry evening in progressive bridge and "500", with dancing on the verandah, which was softly lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Summer flowers were tastefully used in decoration, the High school colors, white and blue in garlands and pennants. The table was very pretty with big bunches of snowballs and streamers of blue ribbons. Cedars, suggestive of the home, were painted on the place cards, which were tied with blue ribbons.

A delicious summer collation was served and punch all evening.

Miss Bailey was the pianist.

Assisting in the evening's hospitalities were Mrs. C. E. Lawrence, of Circleville; Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mrs. James Flynn and Miss Mabel Collopy.

Mrs. M. S. Daugherty and Mrs. Ellis Daugherty charmingly entertained the Wednesday Euchre club and the Wednesday Bridge club yesterday afternoon.

Woman Frightens Burly Colored Man

It has just come to light that a few nights ago while a lady on East Temple street was busily engaged at her ironing, and no one else was about the premises, she suddenly became aware that there was some one standing behind her.

Wheeling about the woman beheld a burly negro within a few feet of her. "Gimme something to eat and do it quick!" said the fellow. The frightened woman turned about to the table and her eyes fell upon a toy pistol which some of the children had left there. Seizing the weapon she pointed it at the negro and ordered him to leave. "Get out at once or I'll blow your brains out!" she said, and the fellow disappeared so quickly that he nearly carried the rear door with him.

A WOMAN'S ADVICE.

A woman was looking over the shoulder of a man who was writing this item, and just when he got to this point, and was writing the word "soap" she said:

"There's one great essential in a laundry soap. It must be a soap that will not rot the clothes or the fabrics. Some soaps will clean goods, but they rot them; others have sticky, yellow rosin in them and stain the clothes yellow. Just you write that Easy Task soap saves half the work and saves all the clothes and drives away the dirt and keeps away the disease germs and is the best soap I ever found.

And so her advice has been followed, for women know soap.

All of the girls received generous applause.

Miss Bazore, a vocal pupil of Miss Edith Gardner, delighted the audience. Her voice is a clear, high soprano and she handles it beautifully; her enunciation distinct, and voice phrasing good. Each number was a vocal gem.

Miss Constance Ballard played Miss Bazore's accompaniments artistically.

The Girls' Glee club, under Miss Sheen's admirable direction, not only gave the numbers on the program, but generously contributed an additional chorus. The club was in fine form and their numbers splendidly rendered. Miss Gladys Brakefield, the club accompanist, was taken ill just before the concert, and the readiness with which Miss Lillian Davis rose to the occasion, playing the accompaniments beautifully and entirely without preparation, deserves special mention.

There was a very large audience, the boy ushers, Edwards Hopkins, Albert Briggs, Paul Craig, Jack Worrell, Wilbur Adams, all pupils of Miss Light.

An exceedingly pretty party of especial interest in pedagogic circles, was given by Misses Anna Bell and Clara Thurston to announce the engagements of two of their associate teachers in our public schools, Mrs. Martha Brundige, of Xenia, ninth grade teacher, and Miss E. Cree Butler, of Carrolton, Pa., teacher of the business course.

Both teachers will wed this summer. Mrs. Brundige marries Mr. Ernest Bradford, who was at one time chemist with the M. Hamm Co. of this city, and now holds a government position in Panama. The marriage is the sequence to an early romance when Mrs. Brundige and Mr. Bradford were students together at the O. S. U..

Miss Butler's fiance is Mr. Sam Poole, a business man of Carrolton, Pa. The double announcement was received with surprise and pleasure and good wishes showered upon the brides-to-be.

The hostesses had seated Mrs. Brundige and Miss Butler in an alcove festooned with pink and white hearts, where they received the guests who were the teachers of the High school and Central building.

The Bell home, cosy and inviting was made doubly attractive with elaborate decorations of white and pink flowers and garlands of hearts in the same dainty shades, and the rooms were brilliantly lighted through flower shaded bulbs.

Miss Amy Conn, on behalf of the teachers, presented the future brides with boxes of silk hose, artistically gotten up with pink and blue ribbons and sprays of "bridal wreath," and made a happy little speech, voicing congratulations. Each teacher then toasted the honor guests.

The hostesses served an elegant three-course supper, the climax to a most delightful affair.

Thirty High school young people were indebted to Frank Collopy for a delightful party Friday night at the Collopy home, "Cedarhill," on the Circleville pike.

The girls and boys spent a merry evening in progressive bridge and "500", with dancing on the verandah, which was softly lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Summer flowers were tastefully used in decoration, the High school colors, white and blue in garlands and pennants. The table was very pretty with big bunches of snowballs and streamers of blue ribbons. Cedars, suggestive of the home, were painted on the place cards, which were tied with blue ribbons.

A delicious summer collation was served and punch all evening.

Miss Bailey was the pianist.

Assisting in the evening's hospitalities were Mrs. C. E. Lawrence, of Circleville; Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mrs. James Flynn and Miss Mabel Collopy.

Mrs. M. S. Daugherty and Mrs. Ellis Daugherty charmingly entertained the Wednesday Euchre club and the Wednesday Bridge club yesterday afternoon.

Woman Frightens Burly Colored Man

It has just come to light that a few nights ago while a lady on East Temple street was busily engaged at her ironing, and no one else was about the premises, she suddenly became aware that there was some one standing behind her.

Wheeling about the woman beheld a burly negro within a few feet of her. "Gimme something to eat and do it quick!" said the fellow. The frightened woman turned about to the table and her eyes fell upon a toy pistol which some of the children had left there. Seizing the weapon she pointed it at the negro and ordered him to leave. "Get out at once or I'll blow your brains out!" she said, and the fellow disappeared so quickly that he nearly carried the rear door with him.

A WOMAN'S ADVICE.

A woman was looking over the shoulder of a man who was writing this item, and just when he got to this point, and was writing the word "soap" she said:

"There's one great essential in a laundry soap. It must be a soap that will not rot the clothes or the fabric. Some soaps will clean goods, but they rot them; others have sticky, yellow rosin in them and stain the clothes yellow. Just you write that Easy Task soap saves half the work and saves all the clothes and drives away the dirt and keeps away the disease germs and is the best soap I ever found.

And so her advice has been followed, for women know soap.

RUSSIA'S BLUFF.

The Russian Bear is growling again, this time over the Turco-Italian war which promises serious complication between France and the St. Petersburg government.

The trouble was started by Russia when, a week ago, M. Iswolsky, the Russian Ambassador in Paris, informer Premier Poincare that M. Sarsonoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, had protested against France's interference with Russia's policy in the Turco-Italian war and Eastern affairs generally.

It now seems that Premier Kokovsoff, of Russia, has demanded the recall of M. George Louis, the French Ambassador to St. Petersburg, and that similar action will be taken in France with reference to Ambassador Iswolsky.

The situation is decidedly acute, and the relations of the two countries greatly strained.

It is surprising what a bluff Russia is able to put up against the European nations, every one of which trembles as though rocked by an earthquake, every time Russia lets out a complaint. But for the sturdy little Japs, the big country to the north of Europe might have kept the Indian sign on the whole world indefinitely, but the frisky little yellow men called the bluff and gave Russia an awful showing up.

The war with Japan showed Russia to be a seething volcano of anarchy and dissension—no organization or loyalty in either army or navy, and patriotism among the Czar's subjects was lacking.

It would seem that it was high time for some of the nations of continental Europe to wake up and realize that the bear's claws are easily trimmed.

European nations are so jealous and envious of each other that if trouble once starts between any two of them it is difficult to tell just where it will stop or how many nations will be involved before the end finally does come.

Europe is one big jealous family of nations, each of which is ruled by ambitious monarchs who continually seek for the opportunity to obtain military glory, because that, just as it was centuries ago, is still the foundation of the monarch popularity with his subjects.

Each nation is crowded to overflowing with inhabitants, and is constantly seeking more territory into which the surplus population may flow.

These are the chief reasons for the continual unrest in Europe and the feeling of fear constantly present that something is more than likely to break loose at any time.

It is not remarkable therefore that with every nation in Continental Europe afraid of every other nation that Russia has been so long able to maintain her bluff and that it remained for an outsider only a fraction of her size to show up the frightful weaknesses of the great bear of Europe.

Notwithstanding the awful drubbing Japan gave Russia, the growl of the bear still strikes terror to Continental Europe because of the complications which may follow an open breach.

Women Students of the Highest Rank Will Take Their Place In Field of Research and Invention

By Miss M. CAREY THOMAS, President of Bryn Mawr

HOW can women be educated primarily to be wives and mothers? I do not know. I have never met a woman who did know. I have asked many devoted wives and mothers, who have laughed at the preposterous idea. WHAT REQUIRES THE PERFECTION OF ALL OUR HUMAN POWERS CAN SCARCELY BE TAUGHT TO WOMEN IN HIGH SCHOOLS OR IN COLLEGES BY RULE OF THUMB.

College women will probably be more numerous than college men. If we may judge from the continuous increase of women teachers in the schools during the past thirty years the college women of the future will have almost ALL THE ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY TEACHING OF THE COUNTRY IN THEIR HANDS, and they will compete with men for professorships in colleges and universities.

* * *

WHEN THIS IS THE CASE I BELIEVE THERE WILL BE WOMEN SCHOLARS OF THE HIGHEST RANK, DEVOTING THEMSELVES TO RESEARCH AND INVENTION AND ORIGINAL INVESTIGATION, AS THERE ARE NOW WOMEN SINGERS AND ACTRESSES AND POETS AND NOVELISTS.

In addition to teaching and library work, as at present, the college woman of the future will have found certain trades and professions peculiarly suited to her, in which she can succeed AS WELL AS IF NOT BETTER THAN MEN. I predict that architecture and medicine will be two of these.

For the woman who is able to stand shoulder to shoulder with the man she loves in the support of the family there will be 100 per cent and no longer the 50 per cent of marriage. She will, indeed, be the ONLY WOMAN THE MAN OF MODERATE INCOME CAN AFFORD TO MARRY.

Poetry-Today

THE TRUTH TELLER.

The Truth Teller lifts the curtain
And shows us the people's plight;
And everything seems uncertain,
And nothing at all looks right,
Yet out of the blackness groping,
My heart finds a world in bloom;
For it somehow is fashioned for hoping,
And it cannot live in the gloom.

He tells us from border to border,
That race is warring with race;
With riot and mad disorder,
The earth is a wretched place;
And yet, ere the sun is setting,
I am thinking of peace, not strife;
For my heart has a way of forgetting
All things save the joy of life.

I heard in my youth's beginning,
That earth was a region of woe;
Of trouble and sorrow and sinning—
For the Truth Teller told me so.
I knew it was true and tragic;
And I mourned over much that was wrong;
And then by some curious magic,
The heart of me burst into song.

The years have been going, going,
A mixture of pleasure and pain;
But the Truth Teller's books are showing
The evil is on the gain.
And I know that I ought to be grieving,
And I should be too sad to sing;
But somehow I keep on believing
That life is a glorious thing.

OLIVER S. NELSON.

Candidate for Republican nomination for Sheriff, respectfully presents for the consideration of the voters in the Republican primaries the following from the report of State Examiner Hall, of the Bureau of Accounting, who examined Fayette county offices in 1911:

"The cash and fee books of the sheriff are in the form prescribed by your bureau and are fully understood in every detail. A careful check shows all moneys received by the sheriff to have been properly entered and turned into the county treasury at the end of the quarter.

"The sheriff's books are neatly and accurately kept by Deputy Sheriff O. S. Nelson, who deserves the credit for their condition, which is far above the average.

"Both the sheriff and his deputy are deserving of commendation for the care exercised in all official acts. The conscientious manner in which all work is done indicates a most honest and sincere desire to do right."

Attorney General Warns Prosecutors

Attorney General Hogan is writing to the prosecuting attorneys of the various counties of the state requesting that they be especially vigilant in enforcing the Kimble corrupt practices act with reference to the primaries of May 21. He urges that they keep a sharp lookout to see that the part of the act referring to expenditures and hauling voters to the polls, that accounts are filed and inspected and that the provision providing for forfeiture of the right to take office because of failure to comply with the act, is enforced to the utmost.

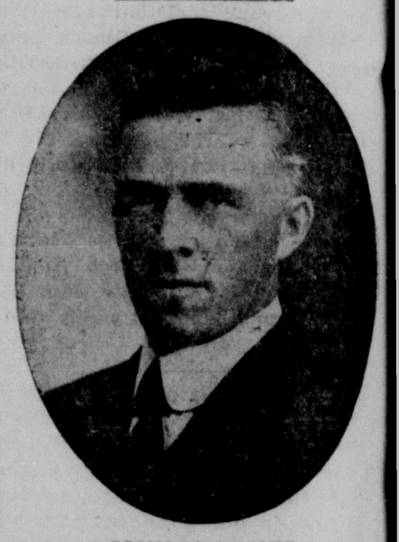

Republican voters of Washington C. H. and Fayette county:

Gentlemen:—Having been engaged in my school work and not having sufficient time at my disposal, it may not be possible for me to see many of you. However, I have been a resident of your city for 7 years and of the county for 22 years. I have been a teacher for many years and feel that I am qualified for the position that I seek, that of County Recorder. Having made my campaign on the proposition of a fair and square deal, I am willing to submit to the will of the voters. I am a member of the K. of P. order and stand for all its principles. I need the office and shall appreciate very much any support you may give me.

Respectfully submitted,

RUSSIA'S BLUFF.

The Russian Bear is growling again, this time over the Turco-Italian war which promises serious complication between France and the St. Petersburg government.

The trouble was started by Russia when, a week ago, M. Iswolsky, the Russian Ambassador in Paris, informer Premier Poincare that M. Sarsonoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, had protested against France's interference with Russia's policy in the Turco-Italian war and Eastern affairs generally.

It now seems that Premier Kokovsoff, of Russia, has demanded the recall of M. George Louis, the French Ambassador to St. Petersburg, and that similar action will be taken in France with reference to Ambassador Iswolsky.

The situation is decidedly acute, and the relations of the two countries greatly strained.

It is surprising what a bluff Russia is able to put up against the European nations, every one of which trembles as though rocked by an earthquake, every time Russia lets out a complaint. But for the sturdy little Japs, the big country to the north of Europe might have kept the Indian sign on the whole world indefinitely, but the frisky little yellow men called the bluff and gave Russia an awful showing up.

The war with Japan showed Russia to be a seething volcano of anarchy and dissension—no organization or loyalty in either army or navy, and patriotism among the Czar's subjects was lacking.

It would seem that it was high time for some of the nations of continental Europe to wake up and realize that the bear's claws are easily trimmed.

European nations are so jealous and envious of each other that if trouble once starts between any two of them it is difficult to tell just where it will stop or how many nations will be involved before the end finally does come.

Europe is one big jealous family of nations, each of which is ruled by ambitious monarchs who continually seek for the opportunity to obtain military glory, because that, just as it was centuries ago, is still the foundation of the monarch popularity with his subjects.

Each nation is crowded to overflowing with inhabitants, and is constantly seeking more territory into which the surplus population may flow.

These are the chief reasons for the continual unrest in Europe and the feeling of fear constantly present that something is more than likely to break loose at any time.

It is not remarkable therefore that with every nation in Continental Europe afraid of every other nation that Russia has been so long able to maintain her bluff and that it remained for an outsider only a fraction of her size to show up the frightful weaknesses of the great bear of Europe.

Notwithstanding the awful drubbing Japan gave Russia, the growl of the bear still strikes terror to Continental Europe because of the complications which may follow an open breach.

Women Students of the Highest Rank Will Take Their Place In Field of Research and Invention

By Miss M. CAREY THOMAS, President of Bryn Mawr

HOW can women be educated primarily to be wives and mothers? I do not know. I have never met a woman who did know. I have asked many devoted wives and mothers, who have laughed at the preposterous idea. WHAT REQUIRES THE PERFECTION OF ALL OUR HUMAN POWERS CAN SCARCELY BE TAUGHT TO WOMEN IN HIGH SCHOOLS OR IN COLLEGES BY RULE OF THUMB.

College women will probably be more numerous than college men. If we may judge from the continuous increase of women teachers in the schools during the past thirty years the college women of the future will have almost ALL THE ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY TEACHING OF THE COUNTRY IN THEIR HANDS, and they will compete with men for professorships in colleges and universities.

* * *

WHEN THIS IS THE CASE I BELIEVE THERE WILL BE WOMEN SCHOLARS OF THE HIGHEST RANK, DEVOTING THEMSELVES TO RESEARCH AND INVENTION AND ORIGINAL INVESTIGATION, AS THERE ARE NOW WOMEN SINGERS AND ACTRESSES AND POETS AND NOVELISTS.

In addition to teaching and library work, as at present, the college woman of the future will have found certain trades and professions peculiarly suited to her, in which she can succeed AS WELL AS IF NOT BETTER THAN MEN. I predict that architecture and medicine will be two of these.

For the woman who is able to stand shoulder to shoulder with the man she loves in the support of the family there will be 100 per cent and no longer the 50 per cent of marriage. She will, indeed, be the ONLY WOMAN THE MAN OF MODERATE INCOME CAN AFFORD TO MARRY.

Poetry-Today

THE TRUTH TELLER.

The Truth Teller lifts the curtain
And shows us the people's plight;
And everything seems uncertain,
And nothing at all looks right,
Yet out of the blackness groping,
My heart finds a world in bloom;
For it somehow is fashioned for hoping,
And it cannot live in the gloom.

He tells us from border to border,
That race is warring with race;
With riot and mad disorder,
The earth is a wretched place;
And yet, ere the sun is setting,
I am thinking of peace, not strife;
For my heart has a way of forgetting
All things save the joy of life.

I heard in my youth's beginning,
That earth was a region of woe;
Of trouble and sorrow and sinning—
For the Truth Teller told me so.
I knew it was true and tragic;
And I mourned over much that was wrong;
And then by some curious magic,
The heart of me burst into song.

The years have been going, going,
A mixture of pleasure and pain;
But the Truth Teller's books are showing
The evil is on the gain.
And I know that I ought to be grieving,
And I should be too sad to sing;
But somehow I keep on believing
That life is a glorious thing.

OLIVER S. NELSON.

Candidate for Republican nomination for Sheriff, respectfully presents for the consideration of the voters in the Republican primaries the following from the report of State Examiner Hall, of the Bureau of Accounting, who examined Fayette county offices in 1911:

"The cash and fee books of the sheriff are in the form prescribed by your bureau and are fully understood in every detail. A careful check shows all moneys received by the sheriff to have been properly entered and turned into the county treasury at the end of the quarter.

"The sheriff's books are neatly and accurately kept by Deputy Sheriff O. S. Nelson, who deserves the credit for their condition, which is far above the average.

"Both the sheriff and his deputy are deserving of commendation for the care exercised in all official acts. The conscientious manner in which all work is done indicates a most honest and sincere desire to do right."

Attorney General Hogan is writing to the prosecuting attorneys of the various counties of the state requesting that they be especially vigilant in enforcing the Kimble corrupt practices act with reference to the primaries of May 21. He urges that they keep a sharp lookout to see that the part of the act referring to expenditures and hauling voters to the polls, that accounts are filed and inspected and that the provision providing for forfeiture of the right to take office because of failure to comply with the act, is enforced to the utmost.

The Liquor Interests Contributed $4200 Harmon Campaign Says H. C. Garber

National Committeeman Harvey Garber Issues Statement.

MAKES SERIES OF CHARGES

States the Governor Fought Bryan in 1896, and in 1900 Refused to Contribute to the National or State Campaign—Also Charges Harmon With Having Betrayed Every Platform Pledge the People Have Relied Upon.

Columbus, O., May 18.—National Committeeman Harvey C. Garber made the following statement today:

"Mr. Harmon in his desperation is wildly throwing dust in the eyes of Ohio Democrats, but the rank and file of the five hundred thousand Democrats of the state are going to repudiate him next Tuesday, as he has been repudiated in over 30 states of the Union which have already elected anti-Harmon delegates.

"Born and bred a Republican, not one of his family ever voted for a Democrat, and he himself knows the circle under the eagle as well as any plutocrat in New York city. In 1896 he viciously opposed the best and truest-hearted Democrat the country has ever known. As attorney general in Grover Cleveland's cabinet he tried to coerce district attorneys under him in a number of southern states to oppose Bryan.

"Will he deny this? If he does, I will produce the name of at least one man and the record.

"In 1900, when Mr. Bryan ran the second time, he refused to give a penny either to the national or state campaign. If he denies this I can produce his letter, for I was chairman of the finance committee and have carefully kept all of his letters. In 1903 he went against Tom L. Johnson for governor because the 2-cent railway plank was in the Democratic state platform, and he knew that Johnson would keep his pledge to the people.

HARVEY C. GARBER,
Ohio Member of the Democratic National Committee.

"In 1908, when Mr. Bryan ran the third time I could not get him to give a penny until I implored him, for his own selfish sake, to at least contribute $100 to Chairman Mack, so his name would appear in the list of contributions which was to be published before the 1908 election.

"This he refused to do until he learned that the list would be published and in the hands of the people long enough before election day to show that he had not contributed anything.

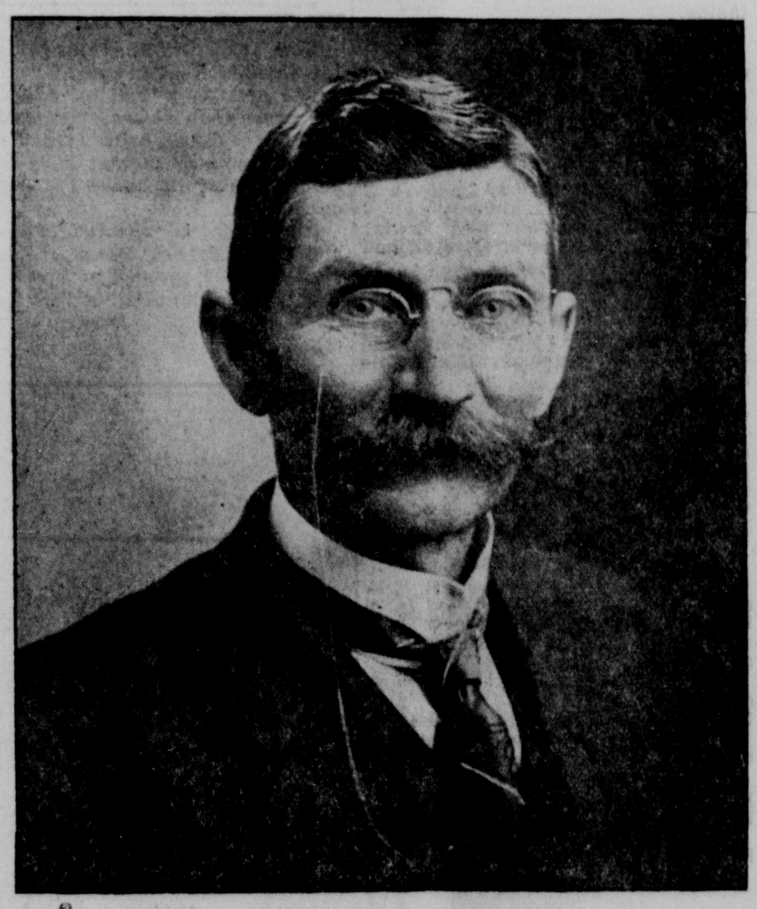

"I had to use the argument with him that in Ohio, if in all that list his name did not appear, and he the Democratic candidate for governor, it would be fatal to him in his home state.

"He mulcted the liquor people out of $43,000 in 1908 and mulcted Bryan friends out of $27,000 more the same year to aid him in his own personal ambition to be elected governor. Will he deny this? If he does, I will publish the list.

"He has betrayed every platform pledge that the people have relied upon.

"I can say that, as a member of the general assembly under Governors Campbell and McKinley, Harmon, as attorney for the railroads, haunted the legislative halls very little less than did the late Senator Mark Hanna."

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff.

C. P. LUTTRELL.

Mr. Luttrell has made a strong canvass for the nomination, having tried twice to see personally all the voters of the county. He has found it impossible, however to see all. Now he asks that each and every one of the voters support him for the nomination, which will be fully appreciated. Mr. Luttrell has been warmly received everywhere and feels very grateful to his friends and new acquaintances throughout the county. If elected Mr. Luttrell will support the laws and constitution of Ohio fearlessly and endeavor to give the people the best of his ability.

San Francisco Has $8,800,000 Bonds

After a very vigorous campaign, led by Mayor James Rolph and his Board of Supervisors, the citizens of San Francisco approved a bond issue of $8,800,000, at the special election held March 28. This favorable vote makes possible the construction by San Francisco of a magnificent new city hall, and the purchase of additional land for a civic center on which other public buildings will be erected in the future. One structure to be built on this land in the very near future is a public auditorium, which the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company has offered to furnish in consideration of the city's providing the necessary land.

An interesting feature of the election is the fact that at it women voted for the first time in San Francisco. Some 10,000 of them went to the polls, and in many parts of the city women also served on the election boards. It is reported that 90 per cent of the registered women voted, while less than 50 per cent of the men went to the polls.—The American City.

YOUR WIFE'S PICTURE.

A man ought to be ashamed to live so that his wife is compelled to look as she does at housecleaning time. He'll allow her to buy cheap old yellow soap right along and take twice as long for her housework and washing, when Easy Task soap will save time, health and money for her. A man wouldn't tolerate old-fashioned methods in his place of business for a minute. If your wife would use Easy Task soap all the time there wouldn't be a tenth of the dirt to get rid of at housecleaning time.

THE PRIMARY

The primary election comes on Tuesday, May 21st. Democrats who want to vote for progressive candidates and who are opposed to Governor Harmon for president should observe the following suggestion in marking their ballots.

The candidates for president are on a separate, small ballot of which the following is a fac simile. If you are in doubt cut this out and take it to the polls with you:

	My Choice for President.
	JUDSON HARMON.
X	WOODROW WILSON.

The candidates for delegates are printed at the head of the regular Democratic primary ballot exactly as follows and voters who want to send men to the national Democratic convention who will vote against Harmon or any other reactionary for president, and for Wilson, Clark, Kern, Marshall, or Bryan if he is to be finally decided upon, or some other progressive Democrat, should mark their ballots as follows:

	Delegates to the National Convention. (Two to Elect)
	JEFFERSON S. COMBS.
X	HENRY KAMPF.
X	CHAS. F. KUEHNER.
	P. J. SHOUVLIN.

If in doubt cut this out and take into the polling booth with you.

CHILDREN'S SKINS.

Every now and then a child's skin will break out in some kind of a rash and folks think it caught the trouble at school or somewhere away from home. Half the time the trouble is caused by the use of unwholesome yellow soaps for washing clothing. They leave the dirt in the goods and make the clothing harsh and irritating to the skin. No wonder the rash breaks out. Easy Task soap is clean, and white and sanitary and is best for children's clothes and yours too. Get it at your grocer's.

The candidates for delegates are printed at the head of the regular Democratic primary ballot exactly as follows and voters who want to send men to the national Democratic convention who will vote against Harmon or any other reactionary for president, and for Wilson, Clark, Kern, Marshall, or Bryan if he is to be finally decided upon, or some other progressive Democrat, should mark their ballots as follows:

	Delegates to the National Convention. (Two to Elect)
	JEFFERSON S. COMBS.
X	HENRY KAMPF.
X	CHAS. F. KUEHNER.
	P. J. SHOUVLIN.

If in doubt cut this out and take into the polling booth with you.

CHILDREN'S SKINS.

Every now and then a child's skin will break out in some kind of a rash and folks think it caught the trouble at school or somewhere away from home. Half the time the trouble is caused by the use of unwholesome yellow soaps for washing clothing. They leave the dirt in the goods and make the clothing harsh and irritating to the skin. No wonder the rash breaks out. Easy Task soap is clean, and white and sanitary and is best for children's clothes and yours too. Get it at your grocer's.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION —TO— THE VOTERS OF WASHINGTON

In view of the fact that the Board of Education is asking the voters of Washington to grant them $30,000 to expend in buildings and equipment of school property in addition to $100,000 already provided, it seems proper that the public be advised as to the work done and that contemplated by the Board.

In the first place, when the Board estimated that $100,000 would be sufficient for the work to be accomplished, it contemplated the expenditure of $20,000 for Cherry Hill, $5,000 for repairs on East End and Sunny Side schools and $75,000 for a High school building. It was found advisable and necessary to spend more money on the building for Cherry Hill, also, improvements on the Sunny Side and East End buildings when completed, according to the requirements of the state inspectors will cost more than the amount originally estimated.

Again, it was at first proposed to build a high school building alone. Further investigations convinced the Board that under all the circumstances it would be better to combine a grade and High school building. This necessitated a much larger and, consequently, a more expensive building. When the bids were opened for a High school and grade building, it was found we had not sufficient funds with which to complete it as an entirety. We had taken bids, however, upon the work to be constructed with and without certain features so that we could at least complete a building which while not combining in itself all would still retain so far as it went enough to make a satisfactory structure.

We believe that the public would be better served to have the building completed entire as proposed. This will give the added features among others of an auditorium with a seating capacity of 750, and a gymnasium underneath. Not only is an auditorium essential to the work of the schools, but it could and would be made of immense advantage to the public, used for purposes of advancing the interests of the community along educational lines. In order to secure the best results it will be necessary to have approximately the amount asked.

If you see fit to grant this additional amount, we shall aim to expend the money wisely. We believe that after the building is completed, you will have no cause to regret your action.

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, May 17, 1912.

Just at present the National League race is a two team affair, with the Reds and the Giants battling for first honors, and the big fight for the position scheduled during the next five days, beginning on Saturday, May 18, and embracing what undoubtedly will be the biggest Sunday audience that ever witnessed a game on the local lot. The other six teams of the National League have been below the .500 mark the greater part of the season, and none of them is showing form that would indicate a speedy overtaking of the two leaders. It is not expected that the Reds and the Giants will have this great margin to work on all season. Changes are certain to occur, so that a little later on this race will be closer and more exciting to a greater number of cities. For the present, however, O'Day's athletes and McGraw's champions, are the class of the league, and the seekers for the real stuff in base ball are looking to the coming series of five games between the two teams as a preety good test of the respective merits of the aggregations.

It will be recalled that the last Sunday game played by the New Yorks in Cincinnati last season started as a battle of southpaws, with Rube Benton and Rube Marquard as the opposing hurlers. Before the contest had progressed far the Giant's southpaw was chased to the woods; but Benton continued his classy work and held the New Yorkers helpless. Efforts are now being made to stage this same combination for the Sunday game during the present series, and if it is done, the fans surely will get a run for their money, provided both twirlers are right. Benton has been winning steadily this season, while Marquard's work seems to be even better than last season. Under these conditions a battle royal may be expected, with the Reds at least even money choices.

Optomistic followers of the game are picking the Reds to finish at the head of the procession. In order to stimulate the interest and energy of the Reds in battling for the big honors, a local hotel man has pledged himself to purchase automobiles for all the members of the team if they bring home the flag, while another merchant offers $25 worth of groceries, and still another a $40 suit of clothes to each player if the bunting comes this way. Despite this enthusiasm on the part of the followers of the team, the club officials are making no claims. Enormous crowds at all the games have testified to the popularity of the Reds, and it is expected that all Saturday and Sunday records will be broken during the New York series, the special Saturday feature being the formal dedication of the new stands, with many dignitaries of national reputation present, to be followed in the evening by a dinner to President Herrmann and the officials of the club, with the Cincinnati Commercial Association as hosts. Some doings, gentlemen.

The Attorney-General of New Mexico has gone through the laws of that state with a fine-toothed comb and a vacuum cleaner and has failed to find any particles of statutes that would prevent the Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn battle on the Fourth of July; so on the glorious Independence Day, the White Man's Hope and the Ethiopian Cinch will exchange wallops until such a time as the referee counts ten without being interrupted by the man on the floor. Johnson at last has started in active work for the bout, and while acknowledging that it's going to be a tough job to get down to real fighting weight, promises to do it. Flynn is already in the vicinity of Las Vegas, where the fight will take place, and will begin active work at once in order to condition and acclimate himself at the same time. Johnson, of course, continues to be the favorite for the decision.

Thousands of athletes, of amateur standing, in all parts of the world, are in active training for the world's Olympian Games, which will be held in Stockholm, Sweeden, the latter part of June and early in July. Yet few of these possible champion winners are aware of the fact that these games date back to the time of Hercules, when short foot races constituted the contests, which occupied but one day. In 724 B. C. longer races were added, other events, such as boxing, wrestling, chariot races and foot races for men in armor were added from time to time. Eventually professionalism crept into the games and they were suppressed in A. D. 394. The modern Olympic games were revived in 1895, and promise to continue as world's events indefinitely.

Abe Attell doesn't propose to be eliminated from the radius of the glare of the pugilistic spotlight, even though he has surrendered his crown as champion of the feathers to Johnny Kilbane. The little Hebrew has established himself on Billy Nolan's ranch in the hills of California, and there hopes to regain the punch, the cleverness and the stamina that were his before Kilbane proved that he had all these qualities, only more so. Attell will spend some three months in "coming back" after which he will tackle a few "runners up," eventually taking on Kilbane in an effort to regain his title—provided some of the others don't sidetrack him in the meantime. Abe's intentions are good—but will his physique back them up?

Ty Cobb Has Friends In Trouble

Detroit Players Mutiny Until Player Reinstated.

New York, May 18. — A situation unprecedented in organized baseball was created in Philadelphia. The Detroit players, in sympathy with Ty Cobb in his action in punching a spectator at American league park, New York, resented the sentence of indefinite suspension inflicted on the star by Ban Johnson by declaring they would not play ball again unless Cobb is at once reinstated.

The Tiger players were an angry lot in Philadelphia. They sent a telegram to Johnson saying in substance that they felt Cobb was unjustly treated and unless the matter was adjusted to their satisfaction and Cobb reinstated for today's game there would be no game.

"Detroit will play today or it will cost somebody a snug sum of money," was Johnson's somewhat cryptic answer to the threat. The executive went on to say that Cobb would not be seen in the lineup today and that he would not play for some time. "The suspension has not been lifted and will not be until all the evidence possible relative to the affair is in my hands."

Repairing Old Frame Buildings

In compliance with the orders issued by the State Fire Marshal in which fifteen old frame structures in the business part of the city were ordered torn down and others covered with sheet steel, the owners have been busy the past ten days, and a few of the structures have been removed while others remain to be torn down.

Practically all of the buildings ordered covered with sheet steel have been given the required coating, rendering them less liable to fire dangers, and offering protection to adjoining buildings.

Some of the most important buildings ordered removed are still standing, but as the law is very strict, the structures will probably all be removed before the specified time elapses.

"Detroit will play today or it will cost somebody a snug sum of money," was Johnson's somewhat cryptic answer to the threat. The executive went on to say that Cobb would not be seen in the lineup today and that he would not play for some time. "The suspension has not been lifted and will not be until all the evidence possible relative to the affair is in my hands."

Repairing Old Frame Buildings

In compliance with the orders issued by the State Fire Marshal in which fifteen old frame structures in the business part of the city were ordered torn down and others covered with sheet steel, the owners have been busy the past ten days, and a few of the structures have been removed while others remain to be torn down.

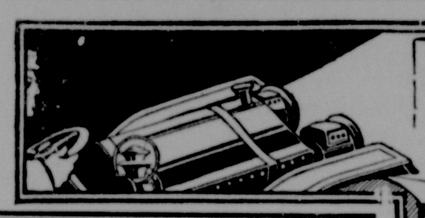

Practically all of the buildings ordered covered with sheet steel have been given the required coating, rendering them less liable to fire dangers, and offering protection to adjoining buildings.

Some of the most important buildings ordered removed are still standing, but as the law is very strict, the structures will probably all be removed before the specified time elapses.

Butcher Wagon Used for Patrol

Receiving information that Frank Holmes was in the rear of the Jackson grocery on Sunnyside, and had more than he could agreeably carry in the shape of a good sized jag, Chief McCoy went after Holmes and found him so far gone that he could not even take him in tow.

Hailing a passing meat wagon the chief boosted the man into the wagon and hauled him to the city lock-up and placed him in the cooler.

He will probably receive his remembrance this evening.

Zanesville Dealer Pays Two Fines

Occasionally a dealer in food products in this state is found who persistently violates the weights and measures laws, and who insists that he will sell by measure or in any manner that pleases him, no matter what the wishes of the purchaser are. State Dairy and Food Commissioner Strode is determined to make examples in such cases, whenever they are brought to his knowledge.

A dealer at Zanesville had occasion last week to change his mind when he was arrested and fined on two charges made against him by Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures Albrecht of Commissioner Strode's department.

The dealer's name was P. O. Power and he had been notified several times by the city and county weights and measures officials that he was selling food products in violation of the law. He arrogantly insisted that the law was of no force or effect and challenged the officials to prosecute him.

Deputy Sealer Roney of Muskingum county reported the following facts to the state department last week:

Mr. Oscar Morgan bookkeeper for the Zanesville Gas Company, purchased a peck of sweet potatoes of P. O. Power and insisted on having them weighed, demanding twelve and one-half pounds, as required by law. Mr. Power laughed and said the law was a joke, reported Mr. Roney. The dealer said Mr. Morgan could take the measure of potatoes for a peck or leave them alone, just as he choose. Mr. Morgan was angered and took the potatoes and paid for them. He had them weighed at different stores, and in each instance they weighed but ten and one-half pounds. Mr. Morgan then reported the facts to the county sealer, who communicated with the state department.

Power was again notified to sell his products according to law and was again informed what the law required of him. He still insisted that he would be a law unto himself.

Deputy State Sealer Albrecht then went to Zanesville and made two purchases of Power and both were illegal sales. Two affidavits were filed against Power, one charging him with knowingly selling a short-weight peck of Irish potatoes, and the other charging him with selling a half-peck of sweet potatoes by measurement instead of weight. Warrants were issued and when Power was brought before Mayor Schofield he had mellowed down considerably. He pleaded guilty to both charges and paid a fine of $100 and costs in each case.

Candidates Busy During Last Days

Every candidate in the county is apparently on the hustle making a last effort to see as many voters before the election as he possibly can.

Today being the last Saturday before election there are few persons who entered the city that were not stopped by from one to 25 candidates, all anxious to win the ever elusive vote.

Interest in the local election is somewhat overshadowed by the interest in presidential preference, but there are some hard contests being fought between some of the candidates for county office.

Smallest Library In Whole World

A curious little building is situated at Pinebluff, North Carolina, and is believed to be the smallest public library in the world. Pinebluff is only a small place, with a population fewer than one hundred in summer, and when the ladies of the village decided that they ought to have a public library they found themselves without a building suitable for the purpose. Finally, a gentleman offered them a band-stand which he had built in the hope that Pinebluff would soon become a city, and the offer was accepted with thanks. By giving entertainments and so on, the ladies were able to raise funds to purchase materials to fill in the openings of the band-stand, and generally fit it up into a snug little building. Over five hundred books have been given, and the tiny library of which Pinebluff is very proud, is now in full working order.

Roosevelt Meeting

A very small crowd greeted the appearance of United States Senator Moses R. Clapp from Minnesota and Hon. R. G. Horner, of Washington, D. C., at the Empire Opera House Saturday afternoon.

Senator Clapp arrived in this city over the C. H. & D. from Sidney Saturday morning, and stopped at the Cherry Hotel.

The Washington band played a number of stirring selections on the street. On the stage at the opera house with Senator Clapp and Mr. Horner were Dr. F. E. Hyer, of Bloomingburg, Mr. Sawyer, who has been in this city in the interest of Roosevelt for sometime, Capt. C. Van DeWwatering, who won laurels in the Boer war and chanced to be stopping at the Cherry Hotel, and Attorney Harry Rankin, who was secured to introduce the speakers.

Mr. Rankin first introduced Mr. Horner, who is a prominent colored man from Washington, D. C. Mr. Horner spoke for a short time on the issues between Taft and Rosevelt, and giving the president a decidely black eye.

Following Mr. Horner Senator Clapp was introduced, and for some time held the attention of the audience in showing up the Taft Administration in a number of ways, and pointing out Roosevelt was the only one who could hope to overcome the effect of the Taft administration and lead the Republican party to victory.

Senator Clapp is a strong and eloquent speaker of National reputation, and he put vim and force behind his words.

THE DEMONS OF THE SWAMP

are mosquitoes. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

CATCHES MOSQUITOES WITH VACUUM CLEANER.

New York, May 18.—Arthur Bingham knew that a mosquito, after it forsakes a native swamp for city dwellings, hides in the grass that occasionally decorates a householder's lawn. Bingham noticed the workings of a vacuum cleaner as it sucked up the artificial dirt in the shop windows. Why not, he argued, attach a vacuum cleaner to the lawn mower and draw in the mosquitoes that were playing hide-and-seek in the grass? He tried it. Great!

A dealer at Zanesville had occasion last week to change his mind when he was arrested and fined on two charges made against him by Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures Albrecht of Commissioner Strode's department.

The dealer's name was P. O. Power and he had been notified several times by the city and county weights and measures officials that he was selling food products in violation of the law. He arrogantly insisted that the law was of no force or effect and challenged the officials to prosecute him.

Deputy Sealer Roney of Muskingum county reported the following facts to the state department last week:

Mr. Oscar Morgan bookkeeper for the Zanesville Gas Company, purchased a peck of sweet potatoes of P. O. Power and insisted on having them weighed, demanding twelve and one-half pounds, as required by law. Mr. Power laughed and said the law was a joke, reported Mr. Roney. The dealer said Mr. Morgan could take the measure of potatoes for a peck or leave them alone, just as he choose. Mr. Morgan was angered and took the potatoes and paid for them. He had them weighed at different stores, and in each instance they weighed but ten and one-half pounds. Mr. Morgan then reported the facts to the county sealer, who communicated with the state department.

Power was again notified to sell his products according to law and was again informed what the law required of him. He still insisted that he would be a law unto himself.

Deputy State Sealer Albrecht then went to Zanesville and made two purchases of Power and both were illegal sales. Two affidavits were filed against Power, one charging him with knowingly selling a short-weight peck of Irish potatoes, and the other charging him with selling a half-peck of sweet potatoes by measurement instead of weight. Warrants were issued and when Power was brought before Mayor Schofield he had mellowed down considerably. He pleaded guilty to both charges and paid a fine of $100 and costs in each case.

Candidates Busy During Last Days

Every candidate in the county is apparently on the hustle making a last effort to see as many voters before the election as he possibly can.

Today being the last Saturday before election there are few persons who entered the city that were not stopped by from one to 25 candidates, all anxious to win the ever elusive vote.

Interest in the local election is somewhat overshadowed by the interest in presidential preference, but there are some hard contests being fought between some of the candidates for county office.

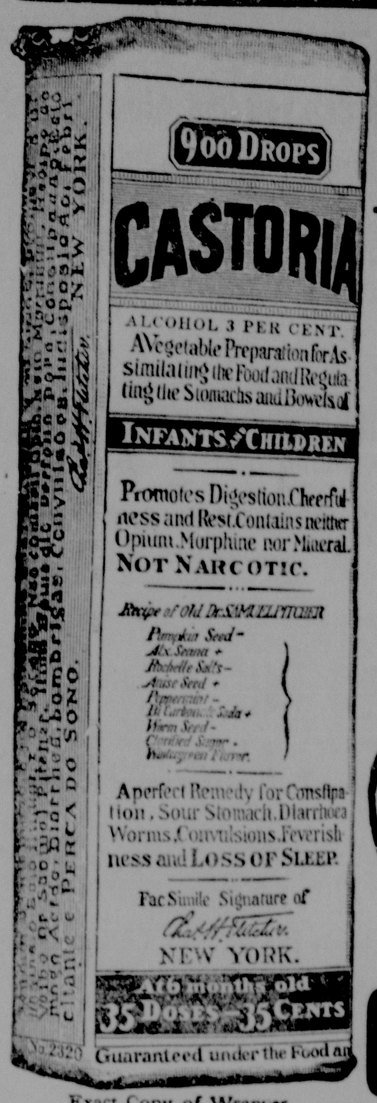

Smallest Library In Whole World

A curious little building is situated at Pinebluff, North Carolina, and is believed to be the smallest public library in the world. Pinebluff is only a small place, with a population fewer than one hundred in summer, and when the ladies of the village decided that they ought to have a public library they found themselves without a building suitable for the purpose. Finally, a gentleman offered them a band-stand which he had built in the hope that Pinebluff would soon become a city, and the offer was accepted with thanks. By giving entertainments and so on, the ladies were able to raise funds to purchase materials to fill in the openings of the band-stand, and generally fit it up into a snug little building. Over five hundred books have been given, and the tiny library of which Pinebluff is very proud, is now in full working order.

Roosevelt Meeting

A very small crowd greeted the appearance of United States Senator Moses R. Clapp from Minnesota and Hon. R. G. Horner, of Washington, D. C., at the Empire Opera House Saturday afternoon.

Senator Clapp arrived in this city over the C. H. & D. from Sidney Saturday morning, and stopped at the Cherry Hotel.

The Washington band played a number of stirring selections on the street. On the stage at the opera house with Senator Clapp and Mr. Horner were Dr. F. E. Hyer, of Bloomingburg, Mr. Sawyer, who has been in this city in the interest of Roosevelt for sometime, Capt. C. Van DeWwatering, who won laurels in the Boer war and chanced to be stopping at the Cherry Hotel, and Attorney Harry Rankin, who was secured to introduce the speakers.

Mr. Rankin first introduced Mr. Horner, who is a prominent colored man from Washington, D. C. Mr. Horner spoke for a short time on the issues between Taft and Rosevelt, and giving the president a decidely black eye.

Following Mr. Horner Senator Clapp was introduced, and for some time held the attention of the audience in showing up the Taft Administration in a number of ways, and pointing out Roosevelt was the only one who could hope to overcome the effect of the Taft administration and lead the Republican party to victory.

Senator Clapp is a strong and eloquent speaker of National reputation, and he put vim and force behind his words.

THE DEMONS OF THE SWAMP

are mosquitoes. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

CATCHES MOSQUITOES WITH VACUUM CLEANER.

New York, May 18.—Arthur Bingham knew that a mosquito, after it forsakes a native swamp for city dwellings, hides in the grass that occasionally decorates a householder's lawn. Bingham noticed the workings of a vacuum cleaner as it sucked up the artificial dirt in the shop windows. Why not, he argued, attach a vacuum cleaner to the lawn mower and draw in the mosquitoes that were playing hide-and-seek in the grass? He tried it. Great!

PRESIDENT TAFT'S APPEAL TO OHIO

"I am here to ask you to do justice and give a square deal to an administration of the government of the United States by an Ohio man. I do not ask any favors because I am an Ohio man, but I ask justice. And I do not know any place in which I can make that appeal with more force and more right than in Canton, the home of that great Ohio president, who was my friend and benefactor, William McKinley."

William Howard Taft at Canton last Tuesday night.

THERE HAVE BEEN NO PANICS DURING PRESIDENT TAFT'S ADMINISTRATION.

In 1907, during Roosevelt's term, there was universal business depression and panicky times. The country trembled on the verge of a great disaster.

Freight trains stopped running, factories were being closed,credit was difficult to obtain.

With the nomination of President Taft and his election, the storm was averted. Since he has been in the White House, a wise and safe President, the country has happily thrived under the sunshine of prosperity.

President Taft's renomination and re-election means that GOOD BUSINESS WILL CONTINUE TO PROSPER AND THAT BAD BUSINESS WILL BE DEALT WITH ACCORDING TO LAW.

UNDER PRESIDENT TAFT A DEFICIT OF $58,000,000 WAS TRANSFORMED INTO A SURPLUS OF $20,000,000.

This is the record of Taft's administration.

It is a record of which Ohio should be proud. It is a record made by Ohio's honored son. It is a record which Ohio will endorse next Tuesday.

VOTE FOR TAFT DELEGATES!

The Demand For Small Change

The decision of the Treasury department not to interpose any objection to legislation authorizing the coinage of three-cent and one-half-cent pieces is a sign of the times. Although the handlers of food products are talking complacently of boosting the prices of meat and selling butter next winter at 80 or 90 cents a pound, the great masses of the people are turning their attention more and more to small economies in expenditure and are getting ready to welcome a diversification of our minor coins. For the first time in American history we seem to be on the verge of putting into circulation a half-cent, and that fact alone speaks volumes in regard to the increasing pressure on the great majority of the present high cost of living.

It is not hard to remember when in a large section of the United States the cent-piece was scorned. The nickel was the smalest coin in common use, and newspapers long continued to be sold in Western communities for five cents because that was the minimum change a purchaser had to toss to the newsboy. Wages and salaries were on the whole much lower than they are now but our great progress in invention and in economy and systemization in production has been accompanied not by a rise in the purchasing power of earnings, but rather by a vast increase in consumption and a steady advance in the cost of living. Persons who a generation ago thought it beneath them to split a 5-cent piece are now asking for a chance to split a cent. The producers and middlemen who are talking of 80 or 90 cent butter next winter may not have reckoned with the public temper, which is now encouraging the issue of new small coins.—New York Tribune.

HELPS A JUDGE IN BAD FIX.

Justice Eli Cherry, of Gillis Mills, Tenn., was plainly worried. A bad sore on his leg had baffled several doctors and long resisted all remedies. "I though it was a cancer," he wrote. "At last I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was completely cured." Cures burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises and piles. 25 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Harmon Says He Is Live Corpse Yet

Says Bryan's Effort at Burial Was Dismal Failure.

Chillicothe, O., May 18.—Governor Harmon, in a speech bristling with satire and sarcasm, held both Colonel Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan up to ridicule. He characterized Roosevelt as a "curiosity" and, as regarded Bryan's published statement that he was a presidential impossibility, declared he was "rather lively for a 'dead one.'"

The governor said: "You have had a curiosity in town, a man boisterously boosting himself for a third term as president of the United States; in spite of his clear and voluntary promise to abide by the sacred precedents of the republic. A Democratic governor of Ohio was something of a curiosity once, but now that we have elected three in succession the novelty is worn off. Yet I may still lay claim to be an attraction of that kind, as the only re-elected Democratic governor of Ohio, and I hold the record for the size of the majority and the completion of the victory.

"If what Mr. Bryan says is true, I am the cunningest man in the state, because I have fooled the people of Ohio for nearly four years as governor and for many years before. Besides, I present the novel spectacle of a political corpse exciting such alarm that I am being mauled and thumped to make sure I shall not come to life again. Maltreating the dead has been a sign of barbarity and savagery in all countries. It is a grewsome sight which is not attractive in this land of ours, but I am certainly rather lively for a 'dead one,' and the burial announced for next Friday will be at least postponed to a later date."

Debs Again Heads Ticket Of Socialists

Former Mayor Seidel Picked as Running Mate.

Indianapolis, May 18.—Eugene Victor Debs of Terre Haute was nominated as a candidate for the presidency of the United States by the Socialist national convention. Emil Seidel, former mayor of Milwaukee, was named for the vice presidential nomination.

Mr. Debs was opposed for the presidential nomination by Mr. Seidel and Charles Edward Russell of New York. After the result of the first ballot, which was, Debs 165, Seidel 56 and Russell 54, had been given out, Mr. Seidel moved that the nomination be unanimous and it was seconded by Mr. Russell.

A section of the constitution was adopted which pledges the party against "violence as a weapon of the working classes." The session was the most heated of the convention and the section was not adopted until after several hours of debate, which many times ran into personalities.

TAFT INVADES "BROWN LAND" STRIKES HARD

Continues His Attack on Colonel Roosevelt.

IS ASSISTED BY LA FOLLETTE

While President Is Talking to Big Crowd In City by the Maumee, Wisconsin Senator Is Urging Progressive Policies In Nearby Town. Charges That Perkins, Gary and Dan Hanna Are Back of Big Fund to Boom Rough Rider.

Toledo, O., May 18.—In a common cause, President Taft and Senator LaFollette invaded this city. While Mr. Taft was pointing out Roosevelt's inconsistencies before a big audience in the auditorium here, Senator LaFollette was flaying the colonel before another big crowd a few miles out of the city. Senator LaFollette promises to go after Roosevelt's scalp hard. He will, it is declared charge in his speech here tonight that three men closely identified with Wall street interests—George W. Perkins, Judge E. H. Gary of the steel trust and Dan R. Hanna of Cleveland—have raised $1,000 000 for the Roosevelt campaign fund and are now spending it freely in an effort to corral delegates for the national convention.

Senator LaFollette has delegates running in only four districts. The indications now are that LaFollette will poll a very light vote. Toledo was the scene of activity by both Taft and LaFollette. It is the home of State Chairman Brown, who is running the Roosevelt fight in Ohio.

The battlecry that is being raised in Toledo is, "Down with Boss Brown." Brown has had control of the Republican organization of Toledo for a good many years.

Say Brown Is Beaten.

The Taft people contended that they have Boss Brown beaten in Lucas county, which is in reality the city of Toledo. They say they will have a majority of 2,500 for Taft delegates in this county.

The president's trip took him from Cleveland through the lake shore counties in the northwestern part of the state. He delivered a dozen speeches and at all of his stops was greeted by encouraging crowds.

His stops included Lorain, Bellevue, Fremont, Fostoria, Tiffin, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Kenton, Bowling Green and Toledo.

The president devoted his attention chiefly to explaining his stand on the reciprocity issue and to making it clear that Roosevelt himself had indorsed the reciprocity agreement.

LaFollette In Columbus.

Columbus, O., May 18. — Senator LaFollette arrived here this morning and spent several hours in conference with his political managers. This afternoon he is delivering a speech at Olentangy park.

Quarrel Results Fatally.

Columbus, O., May 18.—In a quarrel in a barn of the George I. Mackey Transfer company, Charles E. Dill, a colored driver, shot and killed Henry Williams, a negro, with whom he quarreled over a box of feed.

Incendiarism Suspected.

Zanesville, O., May 18.—Blood hounds were used without success in attempting to run down firebugs who set fire to the power plant of the Saltillo Coal company, entailing a loss of $15.000.

President William H. Taft

Now bringing to a close a whirlwind campaign for the delegation from his own state for a second term. In the campaign just closing the president has not hesitated to hit straight from the shoulder at his traducers.

Last night he addressed a monster meeting in Toledo and Walter D. Brown and ex-President Roosevelt "got theirs".

New York's Great Annual Parade of the Suffragists

Photos copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

MORE than 8,000 women suffragists and about 800 male sympathizers marched up Fifth avenue in the annual "votes for women" parade. Many features combined to make the demonstration an impressive one, among them the bright spring weather, the brilliant yellow banners and the well kept lines of the paraders. The procession was headed by Mrs. Charles T. Knoblauch, wife of a former rough rider, and her detachment of women on horseback, among whom was Miss Inez Milholland, who became well known as a Socialist speaker before she left college. Another striking figure was that of Miss Nellie van Slingerland of Albany, incased in gleaming armor and impersonating Joan of Arc. The women, for the most part, marched under the banners of their district organizations, but there were many groups which carried the insignia of their callings, like the "writers." Probably the most fervent applause of the day went to the members of the Men's league as they passed the ranks of the women marchers, but the Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, eighty-seven years old and a suffragist since 1848, received the heartiest cheers from those who recognized her. The first of the two photographs is of the head of the division of women writers, the second of a part of the cavalry vanguard.

FUTURE GOOD SAYS MR. GARY

Steel Magnate Tries to Enthuse His Colleagues.

HE BELIEVES IN COMPETITION

Should Be of Mild Sort, However, and Not of Kind That Seeks Destruction of the Weak So That Strong May Survive — Expresses Opinion That Spirit of Unrest Throughout Country Has Been Greatly Exaggerated—Says He Is Progressive.

New York, May 18.—Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, took occasion to make some significant remarks at the second annual meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute, held at the Waldorf-Astoria. Judge Gary told the steel men to stand by their guns and co-operate in conforming to the government's policy.

"I think," he proceeded, "we are in a period of great transition. We are passing through an age of peculiar conditions. Although there is a spirit of unrest throughout the country, I think it is exaggerated. The people of the world are moving and this means progress. In other words, we are progressive. Now I am not going to talk politics, but the name progressive is not dangerous. Simply because a man is called a progressive does not indicate that he is a demagogue or a Socialist or an anarchist. I am in favor of progress, but I want it to be conservative progress."

The old methods of competition Judge Gary described as ruthless. They meant simply a survival of the fittest.

Don't Give Up Ship.

"I hope," he continued, "that no one engaged in our industry will lose heart. I hope you will stand by your guns. Don't give up the ship. You are going to be prosperous in the future as you have in the past. Don't believe that competition is harmful, if a competitor is your enemy.

"Competition is necessary. I believe in competition thoroughly. The race should be won by the swift, but I do not believe in that relentless, destructive competition which is calculated to drive out the weak so that only the strong may survive."

White Confident

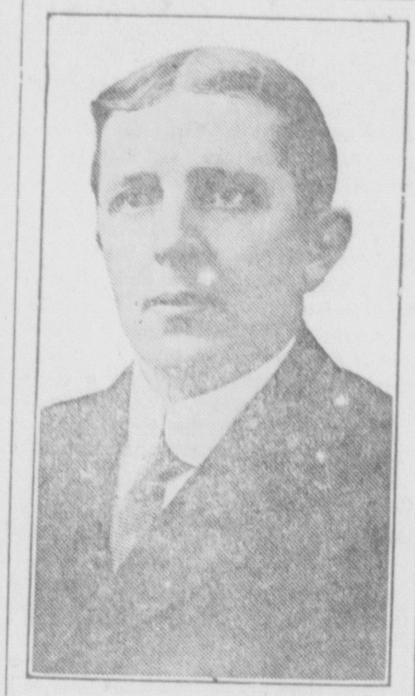

Says Anthracite Settlement Will Be Reached Today.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 18.—Peace is assured in the anthracite field for a period of four years. Miners in convention here will adopt the tentative agreement offered them by the operators, so the leaders declare, and be ordred back to work the early part of next week. President White's address, in which he laid bare the numerical and financial strength of the union, started to turn the tide.

A vote will be taken on the agreement today, and the officials are positive there will be a big majority for adoption and that peace will come for a term of four years.

State's Star Witness In Trial of Senator Huffman.

STATE PLAYS TRUMP CARD

Cleveland Senator Gives Testimony Against Huffman's Alibi.

Columbus, O., May 18.—Senator James A. Reynolds of Cuyahoga county, put on in rebuttal by the state in the Huffman bribery trial, offered the first direct testimony in contradiction to the alibi.

Reynolds testified that he was watching the meeting of the taxation committee on the afternoon of April 27, 1911, at the request of Senator Stockwell, who asked him to keep track of those attending the meeting of the committee to let him (Stockwell) know when they got a quorum.

Senator Reynolds swore that the taxation committee adjourned about 5 o'clock. "After the meeting adjourned I went to the Neil House," he said, "then I went to the Hartman hotel. When I got to the Hartman it was a quarter of six."

"About 15 minutes before the committee adjourned Senator Cetone left the smoker where the meeting was being held. A little later I saw Huffman leave the smoker," testified Reynolds. He saw neither come back.

Senator Huffman's alibi is based on his being at a meeting of the taxation committee between 5 and 6 o'clock on the afternoon of April 27, 1911, in which time Detective Smiley says Cetone and Huffman were at the Chittenden and accepted bribes.

RUIN IF TAFT WINS SAYS T. R.

CONFIDENT OF OWN VICTORY

Former President Makes Two Addresses at Columbus In Which He Assails President's Political Methods and Selection of Political Bedfellows — Declares Republicans of Ohio Must Vote For Roosevelt If They Desire Progressive Policies.

Columbus, O., May 18.—In his speech here Colonel Roosevelt, commenting on Taft's fight for the nomination, said should he continue in the convention, seeking control by force and fraud, the attempt so to control it will be unsuccessful. If successful, it would merely mean the ruin of the Republican party.

The colonel is more confident than ever that he will be nominated. The colonel's text was the president's statement, "the Chicago convention will be organized by the friends of constitutional government and therefore he (President Taft) would be nominated." Colonel Roosevelt here named a number of bosses as the president's "friends of constitutional government," and said they are bent solely on the one purpose of defeating him in convention and out of convention by hook or crook.

Fears the People.

He fears the people and sustains these men against the people and seeks to profit by their defrauding the will of the people in his interest. He declared that Mr. Taft's campaign has not, from the beginning, had the slightest chance of success save by perverting true intent of the constitution through the malign influence of the men of this kind. He exampled the steal he charged to the Taft forces in Washington, and said: "Every Republican in Ohio who votes for any man except myself is strengthening the reactionary cause."

Crowds followed the colonel in the streets, packed around the stand outdoors in Olentangy park, where he addressed his first meeting, and jammed Memorial hall, where he made his first set speech. There were hundreds of people packed in the streets outside.

The colonel began his speechmaking at Ironton and made a dozen speeches, principally at Portsmouth, Chillicothe, Jackson, Nelsonville, Logan and Lancaster, and finished up in Columbus.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE LEAGUE NEXT WEEK

Second Meeting to Organize Law and Order League Ends With New Members Being Added to Committee.

PLANS DISCUSSED AT LENGTH

Committee Recommends That Power Be Vested in Committee of Five, But Majority Favor Full and Complete Organization.

The second meeting of those interested in organizing a Law and Order League, was held in the lecture room of Grace church Friday night, with Rev. Locke presiding. Qute a number of new faces were among those present who attended the first meeting.

The committee to formulate plans, Henry Brownell, J. T. Tuttle, James Minshall and Harry Townsley, had their report ready, but before it was taken up a report from the committee appointed to see Mayor Smith and give him a report of the proceedings of the last meeting in order that he might know just what had been done, was heard, Rev. Locke stating that he had called upon Mayor Smith as requested, and that among other things the mayor had informed him that the matter of slot machines had been taken care of the previous evening, and that he had ordered the slot machines faced to the wall, and that they would all be collected and disposed of, as he had not thoroughly understood the law relating to them until the day previous.

The committee on plans then reported, suggesting that the League consist of all members who wished to join, and a Safety Committee of five men to be appointed, who in turn should appoint a committee of three whose identity should not be disclosed, and whose duty it would be to carry on as much of the active work as possible, reporting to the committee of five. No president, secretary or treasurer was recommended, and this caused a hitch in proceedings throughout the session, and eventually ended in the same committee being retained and four additional members added—Rev. Campbell, M. E. Hitchcock, C. E. Lloyd and Rev. Hostetler, who are to draw up by-laws and a constitution for a fully organized league, to have a president, secretary and treasurer, and also the other committees as suggested in the report.

During the two and one-half hours the body was in session both plans were discussed fully and freely, Henry Brownell being the leading advocate of the kind of organization recommended by the committee, and most of the others favoring a complete organization. Mr. Brownell based his idea on the methods employed by the Law & Order League, so that when quick action was necessary it would be accomplished immediately. Rev. Campbell warmly championed the side favoring a complete organization, and was assisted by a number of others.

During the session it was reported that some of the slot machines objected to were still running, and other unlawful proceedings were mentioned.

Many plans and methods of procedure were discussed at length, and each step taken slowly and carefully, and the final action of appointing the committee was apparently satisfactory to all present. The committee is to meet tonight and if possible a meeting will be held Monday night when the organization is to be completed and launched. If the committee cannot finish its work in time, then the next meeting is to be announced in the various churches Sunday.

Burglars Make Haul At Hooker's Poolroom

Some time during the after part of Friday night burglars broke into the Wm. Hooker pool room and restaurant on Court street, and succeeded in making their escape with something like $13 in change which was removed from the cash register.

The burglars gained entrance by means of the rear door, which was double bolted. A hole was cut through the door near the bottom and another near the top, and large enough to permit the bolts being reached and drawn, allowing the door to swing open. The holes were cut with a jack knife.

Besides relieving the cash register of the $13 in change, the thieves worked the combination on a small steel safe and nearly succeeded in securing some $200 which was kept in the cash drawer in the safe.

An attempt had been made to cut through the wooden face of the cash drawer, but whether the job was too difficult or whether the burglars were frightened away, is not known. However a little effort would have forced the cash drawer.

The police got busy as soon as they were notified, and made two arrests on suspicion, the two young men being thrown in jail to await investigation. Everything indicated that some one who was very familiar with the interior of the place, and the habits of those in charge, had turned the trick.

A. J. Kearney Statement of Fact

I am a candidate in the primaries to be held next Tuesday for the Democratic nomination for Probate Judge. I ask the party voters to come to the polls and vote their preference for the nomination for Probate Judge as well as on other questions of vital importance.

I ask for your support in the election because having studied law and been admitted to the practice and having been engaged in the active practice of my profession, I am confident that in that respect my qualifications are ample to discharge the duties of the office and having taught school in the county I feel that my experience in that line has qualified me in that particular line of work, so that I may be able to look after the important school work which is a part of the jurisdiction of the Probate court.

My experience as an agriculturist has kept me in close touch with the farming community, so that the requirements of the office in regard to the settlement of estates, the majority of which are landed estates, may be discharged by me to the satisfaction of those upon whom the burden of head of the family has fallen by reason of death.

For the two reasons, my experience in the practice of the law and my intimate and actual knowledge of conditions of this farming community. I feel that I will be able to conserve the interests and property of those who furnish the bulk of work to the Probate court.

I ask your support.

Less Slate Sold And Reason Why

There was a falling off in the production of slate in the United States in 1911. The value of the output last year was $5,728,019, a decrease of $508,740 compared with 1910, when the value was $6,236,759.

Pennsylvania took the lead in output with 59.9 per cent; Vermont was next, with 28.37 per cent; and Maine Virginia, New York, Maryland, New Jersey, Georgia and Arkansas followed in order of rank. California and Tennessee, which reported a production in 1910, droped out in 1911.

The decrease in production was noticeable in roofing slate, 1,124,677 squares being the output in 1911, a decrease of 135,944 squares from the production of 1910. The value of the output for 1911 was $4,348,571, while that for 1910 was $4,844,664, although a square of slate cost 3 cents more in 1911 than in 1910. A square consists of a sufficient number of pieces of slate to cover 100 square feet of roof, with allowance generally for a 3-inch lap. The production in 1911 therefore represented over 120,000,000 square feet of roofing.

An increase of mill stock—exclusive of blackboard and school slate material—is noted in 1911, both in quantity and value, the production being 5,744,605 square feet, valued at $1,027,605, an average price of 18 cents a square foot. In the previous year the amount produced was 5,181,498 square feet, valued at $999,098, or 19 cents a square foot. Blackboards and school slate are made only from the Pennsylvania slate and there was not so much marketed in 1911 as in 1910 Mill stock also includes flooring, wainscoting, vats, tiles, sinks, laundry tubs, grave vaults, sanitary ware, refrigerator shelves, flour bins, dough troughs, electric switchboards mantles, hearths, well caps, and billiard, laboratory, kitchen, and other table tops. This material is made in the form of slabs from 1 inch to 3 inches or more thick.

While there was a fair demand for slate, according to reports received from the operators, trade conditions were unsettled and prices were somewhat lower than those in 1910.

Indian Ceremony At Pool of Siva

A remarkable Indian ceremony is the Kumbakonam Mahamakam festival. This feast takes place once a year, but the Hindu gods are supposed to visit the sacred tank on each twelfth anniversary. It is said that the god Brahma once requested Siva to collect the essence of all the waters in the world. It is understood that Siva succeeded in doing this, placing the fluid in a pot, which he hid away on the top of a mountain. During the Flood this pot floated away from its position, and when the waters subsided it rested at a spot some distance away, now known as Kumbakonam. Siva, who happened to be hunting in the vicinity, saw the pot, and, drawing his bow and arrow, shot at it, with disastrous results. The water, rushing out, filled a hollow, and this at the present time is the renowned tank. This tank is now a place of pilgrimage, where, during the festival, untold thousands of the faithful dip themselves in the wonderful water, which is credited with all sorts of magical attributes.

IN SOCIETY

Miss Light's May recitals in piano closed last night with a brilliant concert program, given at the First Baptist church by the most advanced pupils, assisted by Miss Estella A. Bazore, of Williamsport, soprano, and the Girls' Glee club, Miss Sheen, director.

The program was slightly changed owing to the illness of Miss Jane Saxton, who was to have played in two duets with Miss Mary Weaver, and also a solo.

Misses Kathleen Davis and Dorothy Rogers, two of the younger pupils, substituted pretty duets, and Miss Mabel Kirk, of New Holland, also a younger pupil, who was unable to attend the former recital, played her solo.

The four advanced pupils who gave the piano numbers certainly did beautiful work, contributing to one of the finest concerts Miss Light has ever presented.

Miss Frances Bending and Miss Mary Weaver both showed marked improvement since last year's recital.

Miss Lillian Davis displayed brilliancy and musical interpretation quite out of the ordinary in so young a girl and Miss Constance Ballard in two very difficult and beautiful piano numbers revealed her gift as a highly endowed natural musician. A perfect storm of applause followed Miss Ballard's last number, "Tremolo", Gottschalk, and continued until she responded with an encore.

All of the girls received generous applause.

Miss Bazore, a vocal pupil of Miss Edith Gardner, delighted the audience. Her voice is a clear, high soprano and she handles it beautifully; her enunciation distinct, and voice phrasing good. Each number was a vocal gem.

Miss Constance Ballard played Miss Bazore's accompaniments artistically.

The Girls' Glee club, under Miss Sheen's admirable direction, not only gave the numbers on the program, but generously contributed an additional chorus. The club was in fine form and their numbers splendidly rendered. Miss Gladys Brakefield, the club accompanist, was taken ill just before the concert, and the readiness with which Miss Lillian Davis rose to the occasion, playing the accompaniments beautifully and entirely without preparation, deserves special mention.

There was a very large audience, the boy ushers, Edwards Hopkins, Albert Briggs, Paul Craig, Jack Worrell, Wilbur Adams, all pupils of Miss Light.

An exceedingly pretty party of especial interest in pedagogic circles, was given by Misses Anna Bell and Clara Thurston to announce the engagements of two of their associate teachers in our public schools, Mrs. Martha Brundige, of Xenia, ninth grade teacher, and Miss E. Cree Butler, of Carrolton, Pa., teacher of the business course.

Both teachers will wed this summer. Mrs. Brundige marries Mr. Ernest Bradford, who was at one time chemist with the M. Hamm Co. of this city, and now holds a government position in Panama. The marriage is the sequence to an early romance when Mrs. Brundige and Mr. Bradford were students together at the O. S. U.

Miss Butler's fiance is Mr. Sam Poole, a business man of Carrolton, Pa. The double announcement was received with surprise and pleasure and good wishes showered upon the brides-to-be.

The hostesses had seated Mrs. Brundige and Miss Butler in an alcove festooned with pink and white hearts, where they received the guests who were the teachers of the High school and Central building.

The Bell home, cosy and inviting was made doubly attractive with elaborate decorations of white and pink flowers and garlands of hearts in the same dainty shades, and the rooms were brilliantly lighted through flower shaded bulbs.

Miss Amy Conn, on behalf of the teachers, presented the future brides with boxes of silk hose, artistically gotten up with pink and blue ribbons and sprays of "bridal wreath," and made a happy little speech, voicing congratulations. Each teacher then toasted the honor guests.

The hostesses served an elegant three-course supper, the climax to a most delightful affair.

Thirty High school young people were indebted to Frank Collopy for a delightful party Friday night at the Collopy home, "Cedarhill," on the Circleville pike.

The girls and boys spent a merry evening in progressive bridge and "500", with dancing on the verandah, which was softly lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Summer flowers were tastefully used in decoration, the High school colors, white and blue in garlands and pennants. The table was very pretty with big bunches of snowballs and streamers of blue ribbons. Cedars, suggestive of the home, were painted on the place cards, which were tied with blue ribbons.

A delicious summer collation was served and punch all evening.

Miss Bailey was the pianist.

Assisting in the evening's hospitalities were Mrs. C. E. Lawrence, of Circleville; Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mrs. James Flynn and Miss Mabel Collopy.

Mrs. M. S. Daugherty and Mrs. Ellis Daugherty charmingly entertained the Wednesday Euchre club and the Wednesday Bridge club yesterday afternoon.

Woman Frightens Burly Colored Man

It has just come to light that a few nights ago while a lady on East Temple street was busily engaged at her ironing, and no one else was about the premises, she suddenly became aware that there was some one standing behind her.

Wheeling about the woman beheld a burly negro within a few feet of her. "Gimme something to eat and do it quick!" said the fellow. The frightened woman turned about to the table and her eyes fell upon a toy pistol which some of the children had left there. Seizing the weapon she pointed it at the negro and ordered him to leave. "Get out at once or I'll blow your brains out!" she said, and the fellow disappeared so quickly that he nearly carried the rear door with him.

A WOMAN'S ADVICE.

A woman was looking over the shoulder of a man who was writing this item, and just when he got to this point, and was writing the word "soap" she said:

"There's one great essential in a laundry soap. It must be a soap that will not rot the clothes or the fabrics. Some soaps will clean goods, but they rot them; others have sticky, yellow rosin in them and stain the clothes yellow. Just you write that Easy Task soap saves half the work and saves all the clothes and drives away the dirt and keeps away the disease germs and is the best soap I ever found.

And so her advice has been followed, for women know soap.

RUSSIA'S BLUFF.

The Russian Bear is growling again, this time over the Turco-Italian war which promises serious complication between France and the St. Petersburg government.

The trouble was started by Russia when, a week ago, M. Iswolsky, the Russian Ambassador in Paris, informer Premier Poincare that M. Sarsonoff, the Russian Foreign Minister, had protested against France's interference with Russia's policy in the Turco-Italian war and Eastern affairs generally.

It now seems that Premier Kokovsoff, of Russia, has demanded the recall of M. George Louis, the French Ambassador to St. Petersburg, and that similar action will be taken in France with reference to Ambassador Iswolsky.

The situation is decidedly acute, and the relations of the two countries greatly strained.

It is surprising what a bluff Russia is able to put up against the European nations, every one of which trembles as though rocked by an earthquake, every time Russia lets out a complaint. But for the sturdy little Japs, the big country to the north of Europe might have kept the Indian sign on the whole world indefinitely, but the frisky little yellow men called the bluff and gave Russia an awful showing up.

The war with Japan showed Russia to be a seething volcano of anarchy and dissension—no organization or loyalty in either army or navy, and patriotism among the Czar's subjects was lacking.

It would seem that it was high time for some of the nations of continental Europe to wake up and realize that the bear's claws are easily trimmed.

European nations are so jealous and envious of each other that if trouble once starts between any two of them it is difficult to tell just where it will stop or how many nations will be involved before the end finally does come.

Europe is one big jealous family of nations, each of which is ruled by ambitious monarchs who continually seek for the opportunity to obtain military glory, because that, just as it was centuries ago, is still the foundation of the monarch popularity with his subjects.

Each nation is crowded to overflowing with inhabitants, and is constantly seeking more territory into which the surplus population may flow.

These are the chief reasons for the continual unrest in Europe and the feeling of fear constantly present that something is more than likely to break loose at any time.

It is not remarkable therefore that with every nation in Continental Europe afraid of every other nation that Russia has been so long able to maintain her bluff and that it remained for an outsider only a fraction of her size to show up the frightful weaknesses of the great bear of Europe.

Notwithstanding the awful drubbing Japan gave Russia, the growl of the bear still strikes terror to Continental Europe because of the complications which may follow an open breach.

Women Students of the Highest Rank Will Take Their Place In Field of Research and Invention

By Miss M. CAREY THOMAS, President of Bryn Mawr

HOW can women be educated primarily to be wives and mothers? I do not know. I have never met a woman who did know. I have asked many devoted wives and mothers, who have laughed at the preposterous idea. WHAT REQUIRES THE PERFECTION OF ALL OUR HUMAN POWERS CAN SCARCELY BE TAUGHT TO WOMEN IN HIGH SCHOOLS OR IN COLLEGES BY RULE OF THUMB.

College women will probably be more numerous than college men. If we may judge from the continuous increase of women teachers in the schools during the past thirty years the college women of the future will have almost ALL THE ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY TEACHING OF THE COUNTRY IN THEIR HANDS, and they will compete with men for professorships in colleges and universities.

* * *

WHEN THIS IS THE CASE I BELIEVE THERE WILL BE WOMEN SCHOLARS OF THE HIGHEST RANK, DEVOTING THEMSELVES TO RESEARCH AND INVENTION AND ORIGINAL INVESTIGATION, AS THERE ARE NOW WOMEN SINGERS AND ACTRESSES AND POETS AND NOVELISTS.

In addition to teaching and library work, as at present, the college woman of the future will have found certain trades and professions peculiarly suited to her, in which she can succeed AS WELL AS IF NOT BETTER THAN MEN. I predict that architecture and medicine will be two of these.

For the woman who is able to stand shoulder to shoulder with the man she loves in the support of the family there will be 100 per cent and no longer the 59 per cent of marriage. She will, indeed, be the ONLY WOMAN THE MAN OF MODERATE INCOME CAN AFFORD TO MARRY.

Poetry-Today

THE TRUTH TELLER.

The Truth Teller lifts the curtain
And shows us the people's plight;
And everything seems uncertain,
And nothing at all looks right,
Yet out of the blackness groping,
My heart finds a world in bloom;
For it somehow is fashioned for hoping,
And it cannot live in the gloom.

He tells us from border to border,
That race is warring with race;
With riot and mad disorder,
The earth is a wretched place;
And yet, ere the sun is setting,
I am thinking of peace, not strife;
For my heart has a way of forgetting
All things save the joy of life.

I heard in my youth's beginning,
That earth was a region of woe;
Of trouble and sorrow and sinning—
For the Truth Teller told me so.
I knew it was true and tragic;
And I mourned over much that was wrong;
And then by some curious magic,
The heart of me burst into song.

The years have been going, going,
A mixture of pleasure and pain;
But the Truth Teller's books are showing
The evil is on the gain.
And I know that I ought to be grieving,
And I should be too sad to sing;
But somehow I keep on believing
That life is a glorious thing.

OLIVER S. NELSON.

Candidate for Republican nomination for Sheriff, respectfully presents for the consideration of the voters in the Republican primaries the following from the report of State Examiner Hall, of the Bureau of Accounting, who examined Fayette county offices in 1911:

"The cash and fee books of the sheriff are in the form prescribed by your bureau and are fully understood in every detail. A careful check shows all moneys received by the sheriff to have been properly entered and turned into the county treasury at the end of the quarter.

"The sheriff's books are neatly and accurately kept by Deputy Sheriff O. S. Nelson, who deserves the credit for their condition, which is far above the average.

"Both the sheriff and his deputy are deserving of commendation for the care exercised in all official acts. The conscientious manner in which all work is done indicates a most honest and sincere desire to do right."

Attorney General Warns Prosecutors

Attorney General Hogan is writing to the prosecuting attorneys of the various counties of the state requesting that they be especially vigilant in enforcing the Kimble corrupt practices act with reference to the primaries of May 21. He urges that they keep a sharp lookout to see that the part of the act referring to expenditures and hauling voters to the polls, that accounts are filed and inspected and that the provision providing for forfeiture of the right to take office because of failure to comply with the act, is enforced to the utmost.

Republican voters of Washington C. H. and Fayette county:

However, I have been a resident of your city for 7 years and of the county for 22 years. Having made my campaign on the proposition of a fair and square deal, I am willing to submit to the will of the voters. I have great respect for the soldier, my father having served as one in the Civil War at a time when our country most needed them. I am a member of the K. of P. order and stand for all its principles. I need the office and shall appreciate very much any support you may give me.

The Liquor Interests Contributed $4200 Harmon Campaign Says H. C. Garber

National Committeeman Harvey Garber Issues Statement.

MAKES SERIES OF CHARGES

States the Governor Fought Bryan in 1896, and in 1900 Refused to Contribute to the National or State Campaign—Also Charges Harmon With Having Betrayed Every Platform Pledge the People Have Relied Upon.

Columbus, O., May 18.—National Committeeman Harvey C. Garber made the following statement today:

"Mr. Harmon in his desperation is wildly throwing dust in the eyes of Ohio Democrats, but the rank and file of the five hundred thousand Democrats of the state are going to repudiate him next Tuesday, as he has been repudiated in over 30 states of the Union which have already elected anti-Harmon delegates.

"Born and bred a Republican, not one of his family ever voted for a Democrat, and he himself knows the circle under the eagle as well as any plutocrat in New York city. In 1896 he viciously opposed the best and truest-hearted Democrat the country has ever known. As attorney general in Grover Cleveland's cabinet he tried to coerce district attorneys under him in a number of southern states to oppose Bryan.

"Will he deny this? If he does, I will produce the name of at least one man and the record.

"In 1900, when Mr. Bryan ran the second time, he refused to give a penny either to the national or state campaign. If he denies this I can produce his letter, for I was chairman of the finance committee and have carefully kept all of his letters. In 1903 he went against Tom L. Johnson for governor because the 2-cent railway plank was in the Democratic state platform, and he knew that Johnson would keep his pledge to the people.

"In 1908, when Mr. Bryan ran the third time I could not get him to give a penny until I implored him, for his own selfish sake, to at least contribute $100 to Chairman Mack, so his name would appear in the list of contributions which was to be published before the 1908 election.

"This he refused to do until he learned that the list would be published and in the hands of the people long enough before election day to show that he had not contributed anything.

"I had to use the argument with him that in Ohio, if in all that list his name did not appear, and he the Democratic candidate for governor, it would be fatal to him in his home state.

"He mulcted the liquor people out of $43,000 in 1908 and mulcted Bryan friends out of $27,000 more the same year to aid him in his own personal ambition to be elected governor. Will he deny this? If he does, I will publish the list.

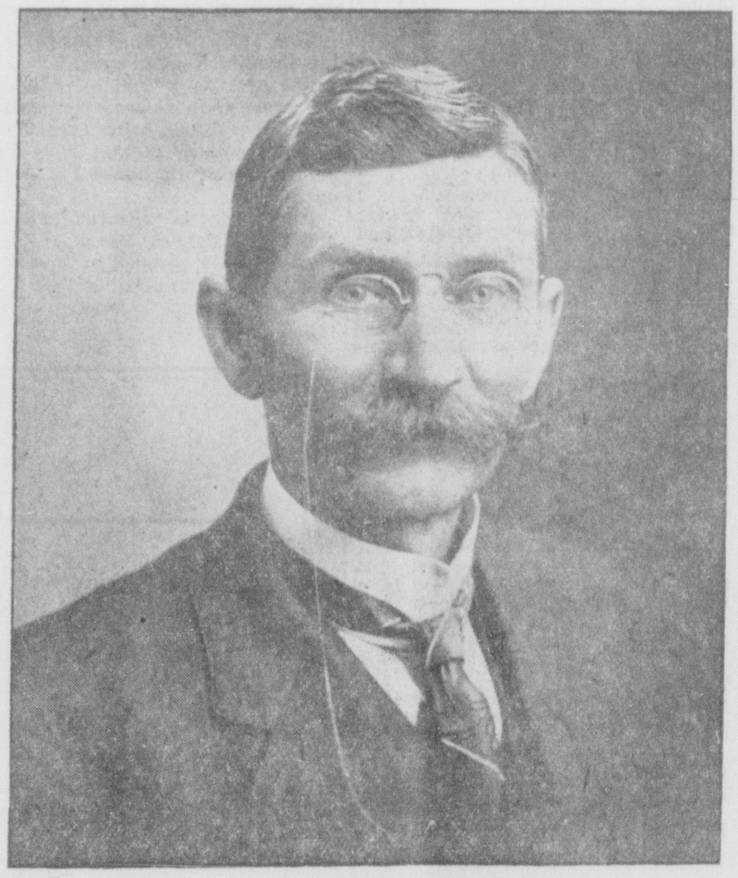

"He has betrayed every platform pledge that the people have relied upon.

"I can say that, as a member of the general assembly under Governors Campbell and McKinley, Harmon, as attorney for the railroads, haunted the legislative halls very little less than did the late Senator Mark Hanna."

HARVEY C. GARBER,
Ohio Member of the Democratic National Committee.

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff.

C. P. LUTTRELL.

Mr. Luttrell has made a strong canvass for the nomination, having tried twice to see personally all the voters of the county. He has found it impossible, however to see all. Now he asks that each and every one of the voters support him for the nomination, which will be fully appreciated. Mr. Luttrell has been warmly received everywhere and feels very grateful to his friends and new acquaintances throughout the county. If elected Mr. Luttrell will support the laws and constitution of Ohio fearlessly and endeavor to give the people the best of his ability.

San Francisco Has $8,800,000 Bonds

After a very vigorous campaign, led by Mayor James Rolph and his Board of Supervisors, the citizens of San Francisco approved a bond issue of $8,800,000, at the special election held March 28. This favorable vote makes possible the construction by San Francisco of a magnificent new city hall, and the purchase of additional land for a civic center on which other public buildings will be erected in the future. One structure to be built on this land in the very near future is a public auditorium, which the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company has offered to furnish in consideration of the city's providing the necessary land.

An interesting feature of the election is the fact that at it women voted for the first time in San Francisco. Some 10,000 of them went to the polls, and in many parts of the city women also served on the election boards. It is reported that 90 per cent of the registered women voted, while less than 50 per cent of the men went to the polls.—The American City.

YOUR WIFE'S PICTURE.

A man ought to be ashamed to live so that his wife is compelled to look as she does at housecleaning time. He'll allow her to buy cheap old yellow soap right along and take twice as long for her housework and washing, when Easy Task soap will save time, health and money for her. A man wouldn't tolerate old-fashioned methods in his place of business for a minute. If your wife would use Easy Task soap all the time there wouldn't be a tenth of the dirt to get rid of at housecleaning time.

THE PRIMARY

The primary election comes on Tuesday, May 21st. Democrats who want to vote for progressive candidates and who are opposed to Governor Harmon for president should observe the following suggestion in marking their ballots.

The candidates for president are on a separate, small ballot of which the following is a fac simile. If you are in doubt cut this out and take it to the polls with you:

	My Choice for President.
	JUDSON HARMON.
X	WOODROW WILSON.

The candidates for delegates are printed at the head of the regular Democratic primary ballot exactly as follows and voters who want to send men to the national Democratic convention who will vote against Harmon or any other reactionary for president, and for Wilson, Clark, Kern, Marshall, or Bryan if he is to be finally decided upon, or some other progressive Democrat, should mark their ballots as follows:

	Delegates to the National Convention. (Two to Elect)
	JEFFERSON S. COMBS.
X	HENRY KAMPF.
X	CHAS. F. KUEHNER.
	P. J. SHOUVLIN.

If in doubt cut this out and take into the polling booth with you.

CHILDREN'S SKINS.

Every now and then a child's skin will break out in some kind of a rash and folks think it caught the trouble at school or somewhere away from home. Half the time the trouble is caused by the use of unwholesome yellow soaps for washing clothing. They leave the dirt in the goods and make the clothing harsh and irritating to the skin. No wonder the rash breaks out. Easy Task soap is clean, and white and sanitary and is best for children's clothes and yours too. Get it at your grocer's.

WESLEY W. DEWEES
Candidate for Recorder
Your support respectfully solicited.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION —TO— THEVOTERSOFWASHINGTON

In view of the fact that the Board of Education is asking the voters of Washington to grant them $30,000 to expend in buildings and equipment of school property in addition to $100,000 already provided, it seems proper that the public be advised as to the work done and that contemplated by the Board.

In the first place, when the Board estimated that $100,000 would be sufficient for the work to be accomplished, it contemplated the expenditure of $20,000 for Cherry Hill, $5,000 for repairs on East End and Sunny Side schools and $75,000 for a High school building. It was found advisable and necessary to spend more money on the building for Cherry Hill, also, improvements on the Sunny Side and East End buildings when completed, according to the requirements of the state inspectors will cost more than the amount originally estimated.

Again, it was at first proposed to build a high school building alone. Further investigations convinced the Board that under all the circumstances it would be better to combine a grade and High school building. This necessitated a much larger and, consequently, a more expensive building. When the bids were opened for a High school and grade building, it was found we had not sufficient funds with which to complete it as an entirety. We had taken bids, however, upon the work to be constructed with and without certain features so that we could at least complete a building which while not combining in itself all would still retain so far as it went enough to make a satisfactory structure.

We believe that the public would be better served to have the building completed entire as proposed. This will give the added features among others of an auditorium with a seating capacity of 750, and a gymnasium underneath. Not only is an auditorium essential to the work of the schools, but it could and would be made of immense advantage to the public, used for purposes of advancing the interests of the community along educational lines. In order to secure the best results it will be necessary to have approximately the amount asked.

If you see fit to grant this additional amount, we shall aim to expend the money wisely. We believe that after the building is completed, you will have no cause to regret your action.

(Signed)

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, May 17, 1912.

Just at present the National League race is a two team affair, with the Reds and the Giants battling for first honors, and the big fight for the position scheduled during the next five days, beginning on Saturday, May 18, and embracing what undoubtedly will be the biggest Sunday audience that ever witnessed a game on the local lot. The other six teams of the National League have been below the .500 mark the greater part of the season, and none of them is showing form that would indicate a speedy overtaking of the two leaders. It is not expected that the Reds and the Giants will have this great margin to work on all season. Changes are certain to occur, so that a little later on this race will be closer and more exciting to a greater number of cities. For the present, however, O'Day's athletes and McGraw's champions, are the class of the league, and the seekers for the real stuff in base ball are looking to the coming series of five games between the two teams as a preety good test of the respective merits of the aggregations.

It will be recalled that the last Sunday game played by the New Yorks in Cincinnati last season started as a battle of southpaws, with Rube Benton and Rube Marquard as the opposing hurlers. Before the contest had progressed far the Giant's southpaw was chased to the woods; but Benton continued his classy work and held the New Yorkers helpless. Efforts are now being made to stage this same combination for the Sunday game during the present series, and if it is done, the fans surely will get a run for their money, provided both twirlers are right. Benton has been winning steadily this season, while Marquard's work seems to be even better than last season. Under these conditions a battle royal may be expected, with the Reds at least even money choices.

Optomistic rollowers of the game are picking the Reds to finish at the head of the procession. In order to stimulate the interest and energy of the Reds in battling for the big honors, a local hotel man has pledged himself to purchase automobiles for all the members of the team if they bring home the flag, while another merchant offers $25 worth of groceries, and still another a $40 suit of clothes to each player if the bunting comes this way. Despite this enthusiasm on the part of the followers of the team, the club officials are making no claims. Enormous crowds at all the games have testified to the popularity of the Reds, and it is expected that all Saturday and Sunday records will be broken during the New York series, the special Saturday feature being the formal dedication of the new stands, with many dignitaries of national reputation present, to be followed in the evening by a dinner to President Herrmann and the officials of the club, with the Cincinnati Commercial Association as hosts. Some doings, gentlemen.

The Attorney-General of New Mexico has gone through the laws of that state with a fine-toothed comb and a vacuum cleaner and has failed to find any particles of statutes that would prevent the Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn battle on the Fourth of July; so on the glorious Independence Day, the White Man's Hope and the Ethiopian Cinch will exchange wallops until such a time as the referee counts ten without being interrupted by the man on the floor. Johnson at last has started in active work for the bout, and while acknowledging that it's going to be a tough job to get down to real fighting weight, promises to do it. Flynn is already in the vicinity of Las Vegas, where the fight will take place, and will begin active work at once in order to condition and acclimate himself at the same time. Johnson, of course, continues to be the favorite for the decision.

Thousands of athletes, of amateur standing, in all parts of the world, are in active training for the world's Olympian Games, which will be held in Stockholm, Sweeden, the latter part of June and early in July. Yet few of these possible champion winners are aware of the fact that these games date back to the time of Hercules, when short foot races constituted the contests, which occupied but one day. In 724 B. C. longer races were added, other events, such as boxing, wrestling, chariot races and foot races for men in armor were added from time to time. Eventually professionalism crept into the games and they were suppressed in A. D. 394. The modern Olympic games were revived in 1895, and promise to continue as world's events indefinitely.

Abe Attell doesn't propose to be eliminated from the radius of the glare of the pugilistic spotlight, even though he has surrendered his crown as champion of the feathers to Johnny Kilbane. The little Hebrew has established himself on Billy Nolan's ranch in the hills of California, and there hopes to regain the punch, the cleverness and the stamina that were his before Kilbane proved that he had all these qualities, only more so. Attell will spend some three months in "coming back" after which he will tackle a few "runners up," eventually taking on Kilbane in an effort to regain his title—provided some of the others don't sidetrack him in the meantime. Abe's intentions are good—but will his physique back them up?

Ty Cobb Has Friends In Trouble

Detroit Players Mutiny Until Player Reinstated.

New York, May 18. — A situation unprecedented in organized baseball was created in Philadelphia. The Detroit players, in sympathy with Ty Cobb in his action in punching a spectator at American league park, New York, resented the sentence of indefinite suspension inflicted on the star by Ban Johnson by declaring they would not play ball again unless Cobb is at once reinstated.

The Tiger players were an angry lot in Philadelphia. They sent a telegram to Johnson saying in substance that they felt Cobb was unjustly treated and unless the matter was adjusted to their satisfaction and Cobb reinstated for today's game there would be no game.

"Detroit will play today or it will cost somebody a snug sum of money," was Johnson's somewhat cryptic answer to the threat. The executive went on to say that Cobb would not be seen in the lineup today and that he would not play for some time. "The suspension has not been lifted and will not be until all the evidence possible relative to the affair is in my hands."

Repairing Old Frame Buildings

In compliance with the orders issued by the State Fire Marshal in which fifteen old frame structures in the business part of the city were ordered torn down and others covered with sheet steel, the owners have been busy the past ten days, and a few of the structures have been removed while others remain to be torn down.

Practically all of the buildings ordered covered with sheet steel have been given the required coating, rendering them less liable to fire dangrs, and offering protection to adjoining buildings.

Some of the most important buildings ordered removed are still standing, but as the law is very strict, the structures will probably all be removed before the specified time elapses.

Butcher Wagon Used for Patrol

Receiving information that Frank Holmes was in the rear of the Jackson grocery on Sunnyside, and had more than he could agreeably carry in the shape of a good sized jag, Chief McCoy went after Holmes and found him so far gone that he could not even take him in tow.

Hailing a passing meat wagon the chief boosted the man into the wagon and hauled him to the city lock-up and placed him in the cooler.

He will probably receive his remembrance this evening.

Zanesville Dealer Pays Two Fines

Occasionally a dealer in food products in this state is found who persistently violates the weights and measures laws, and who insists that he will sell by measure or in any manner that pleases him, no matter what the wishes of the purchaser are. State Dairy and Food Commissioner Strode is determined to make examples in such cases, whenever they are brought to his knowledge.

A dealer at Zanesville had occasion last week to change his mind when he was arrested and fined on two charges made against him by Chief Inspector of Weights and Measures Albrecht of Commissioner Strode's department.

The dealer's name was P. O. Power and he had been notified several times by the city and county weights and measures officials that he was selling food products in violation of the law. He arrogantly insisted that the law was of no force or effect and challenged the officials to prosecute him.

Deputy Sealer Roney of Muskingum county reported the following facts to the state department last week:

Mr. Oscar Morgan bookkeeper for the Zanesville Gas Company, purchased a peck of sweet potatoes of P. O. Power and insisted on having them weighed, demanding twelve and one-half pounds, as required by law. Mr. Power laughed and said the law was a joke, reported Mr. Roney. The dealer said Mr. Morgan could take the measure of potatoes for a peck or leave them alone, just as he choose. Mr. Morgan was angered and took the potatoes and paid for them. He had them weighed at different stores, and in each instance they weighed but ten and one-half pounds. Mr. Morgan then reported the facts to the county sealer, who communicated with the state department.

Power was again notified to sell his products according to law and was again informed what the law required of him. He still insisted that he would be a law unto himself.

Deputy State Sealer Albrecht then went to Zanesville and made two purchases of Power and both were illegal sales. Two affidavits were filed against Power, one charging him with knowingly selling a short-weight peck of Irish potatoes, and the other charging him with selling a half-peck of sweet potatoes by measurement instead of weight. Warrants were issued and when Power was brought before Mayor Schofield he had mellowed down considerably. He pleaded guilty to both charges and paid a fine of $100 and costs in each case.

Candidates Busy During Last Days

Every candidate in the county is apparently on the hustle making a last effort to see as many voters before the election as he possibly can.

Today being the last Saturday before election there are few persons who entered the city that were not stopped by from one to 25 candidates, all anxious to win the ever elusive vote.

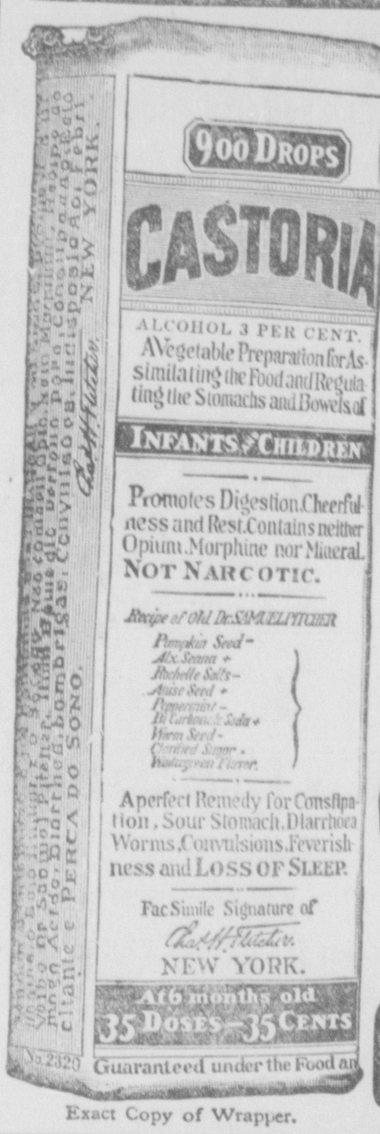

Interest in the local election is somewhat overshadowed by the interest in presidential preference, but there are some hard contests being fought between some of the candidates for county office.

Smallest Library In Whole World

A curious little building is situated at Pinebluff, North Carolina, and is believed to be the smallest public library in the world. Pinebluff is only a small place, with a population fewer than one hundred in summer, and when the ladies of the village decided that they ought to have a public library they found themselves without a building suitable for the purpose. Finally, a gentleman offered them a band-stand which he had built in the hope that Pinebluff would soon become a city, and the offer was accepted with thanks. By giving entertainments and so on, the ladies were able to raise funds to purchase materials to fill in the openings of the band-stand, and generally fit it up into a snug little building. Over five hundred books have been given, and the tiny library of which Pinebluff is very proud, is now in full working order.

Roosevelt Meeting

A very small crowd greeted the appearance of United States Senator Moses R. Clapp from Minnesota and Hon. R. G. Horner, of Washington, D. C., at the Empire Opera House Saturday afternoon.

Senator Clapp arrived in this city over the C. H. & D. from Sidney Saturday morning, and stopped at the Cherry Hotel.

The Washington band played a number of stirring selections on the street. On the stage at the opera house with Senator Clapp and Mr. Horner were Dr. F. E. Hyer, of Bloomingburg, Mr. Sawyer, who has been in this city in the interest of Roosevelt for sometime, Capt. C. Van DeWwatering, who won laurels in the Boer war and chanced to be stopping at the Cherry Hotel, and Attorney Harry Rankin, who was secured to introduce the speakers.

Mr. Rankin first introduced Mr. Horner, who is a prominent colored man from Washington, D. C. Mr. Horner spoke for a short time on the issues between Taft and Rosevelt, and giving the president a decidely black eye.

Following Mr. Horner Senator Clapp was introduced, and for some time held the attention of the audience in showing up the Taft Administration in a number of ways, and pointing out Roosevelt was the only one who could hope to overcome the effect of the Taft administration and lead the Republican party to victory.

Senator Clapp is a strong and eloquent speaker of National reputation, and he put vim and force behind his words.

THE DEMONS OF THE SWAMP

are mosquitoes. As they sting they put deadly malaria germs in the blood. Then follow the icy chills and the fires of fever. The appetite flies and the strength fails; also malaria often paves the way for deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters kill and cast out the malaria germs from the blood; give you a fine appetite and renew your strength. "After long suffering," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "three bottles drove all the malaria from my system, and I've had good health ever since." Best for all stomach, liver and kidney ills. 50c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

CATCHES MOSQUITOES WITH VACUUM CLEANER.

New York, May 18.—Arthur Bingham knew that a mosquito, after it forsakes a native swamp for city dwellings, hides in the grass that occasionally decorates a householder's lawn. Bingham noticed the workings of a vacuum cleaner as it sucked up the artificial dirt in the shop windows. Why not, he argued, attach a vacuum cleaner to the lawn mower and draw in the mosquitoes that were playing hide-and-seek in the grass? He tried it. Great!

PRESIDENT TAFT'S APPEAL TO OHIO

"I am here to ask you to do justice and give a square deal to an administration of the government of the United States by an Ohio man. I do not ask any favors because I am an Ohio man, but I ask justice. And I do not know any place in which I can make that appeal with more force and more right than in Canton, the home of that great Ohio president, who was my friend and benefactor, William McKinley."

William Howard Taft at Canton last Tuesday night.

THERE HAVE BEEN NO PANICS DURING PRESIDENT TAFT'S ADMINISTRATION.

In 1907, during Roosevelt's term, there was universal business depression and panicky times. The country trembled on the verge of a great disaster.

Freight trains stopped running, factories were being closed,credit was difficult to obtain.

With the nomination of President Taft and his election, the storm was averted. Since he has been in the White House, a wise and safe President, the country has happily thrived under the sunshine of prosperity.

President Taft's renomination and re-election means that GOOD BUSINESS WILL CONTINUE TO PROSPER AND THAT BAD BUSINESS WILL BE DEALT WITH ACCORDING TO LAW.

UNDER PRESIDENT TAFT A DEFICIT OF $58,000,000 WAS TRANSFORMED INTO A SURPLUS OF $20,000,000.

This is the record of Taft's administration.

It is a record of which Ohio should be proud. It is a record made by Ohio's honored son. It is a record which Ohio will endorse next Tuesday.

VOTE FOR TAFT DELEGATES!

The Demand For Small Change

The decision of the Treasury department not to interpose any objection to legislation authorizing the coinage of three-cent and one-half-cent pieces is a sign of the times. Although the handlers of food products are talking complacently of boosting the prices of meat and selling butter next winter at 80 or 90 cents a pound, the great masses of the people are turning their attention more and more to small economies in expenditure and are getting ready to welcome a diversification of our minor coins. For the first time in American history we seem to be on the verge of putting into circulation a half-cent, and that fact alone speaks volumes in regard to the increasing pressure on the great majority of the present high cost of living.

It is not hard to remember when in a large section of the United States the cent-piece was scorned. The nickel was the smalest coin in common use, and newspapers long continued to be sold in Western communities for five cents because that was the minimum change a purchaser had to toss to the newsboy. Wages and salaries were on the whole much lower than they are now but our great progress in invention and in economy and systemization in production has been accompanied not by a rise in the purchasing power of earnings, but rather by a vast increase in consumption and a steady advance in the cost of living. Persons who a generation ago thought it beneath them to split a 5-cent piece are now asking for a chance to split a cent. The producers and middlemen who are talking of 80 or 90 cent butter next winter may not have reckoned with the public temper, which is now encouraging the issue of new small coins.—New York Tribune.

HELPS A JUDGE IN BAD FIX.

Justice Eli Cherry, of Gillis Mills, Tenn., was plainly worried. A bad sore on his leg had baffled several doctors and long resisted all remedies. "I though it was a cancer," he wrote. "At last I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was completely cured." Cures burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises and piles. 25 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Harmon Says He Is Live Corpse Yet

Says Bryan's Effort at Burial Was Dismal Failure.

Chillicothe, O., May 18.—Governor Harmon, in a speech bristling with satire and sarcasm, held both Colonel Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan up to ridicule. He characterized Roosevelt as a "curiosity" and, as regarded Bryan's published statement that he was a presidential impossibility, declared he was "rather lively for a 'dead one.'"

The governor said: "You have had a curiosity in town, a man boisterously boosting himself for a third term as president of the United States; in spite of his clear and voluntary promise to abide by the sacred precedents of the republic. A Democratic governor of Ohio was something of a curiosity once, but now that we have elected three in succession the novelty is worn off. Yet I may still lay claim to be an attraction of that kind, as the only re-elected Democratic governor of Ohio, and I hold the record for the size of the majority and the completion of the victory.

"If what Mr. Bryan says is true, I am the cunningest man in the state, because I have fooled the people of Ohio for nearly four years as governor and for many years before. Besides, I present the novel spectacle of a political corpse exciting such alarm that I am being mauled and thumped to make sure I shall not come to life again. Maltreating the dead has been a sign of barbarity and savagery in all countries. It is a grewsome sight which is not attractive in this land of ours, but I am certainly rather lively for a 'dead one,' and the burial announced for next Friday will be at least postponed to a later date."

Debs Again Heads Ticket Of Socialists

Former Mayor Seidel Picked as Running Mate.

Indianapolis, May 18.—Eugene Victor Debs of Terre Haute was nominated as a candidate for the presidency of the United States by the Socialist national convention. Emil Seidel, former mayor of Milwaukee, was named for the vice presidential nomination.

Mr. Debs was opposed for the presidential nomination by Mr. Seidel and Charles Edward Russell of New York. After the result of the first ballot, which was, Debs 165, Seidel 56 and Russell 54, had been given out, Mr. Seidel moved that the nomination be unanimous and it was seconded by Mr. Russell.

A section of the constitution was adopted which pledges the party against "violence as a weapon of the working classes." The session was the most heated of the convention and the section was not adopted until after several hours of debate, which many times ran into personalities.
